Flames Leap 60 Feet Across River To Newton Side

Three factory buildings at Newton Lower Falls, one on the Newton side of the Charles River and two on the Wellesley side, were virtually destroyed by a spectacular general alarm fire Thursday morning, which caused a damage of nearly half a million dollars.

The plants on the Wellesley side of the river, which were burned to the ground, were the Wellesley Woolen Co. rear of 37 Walnut street, and the Lenk Manufacturing Co., at 59 Walnut street, producers of blow torches. The Newton building, occupied by the J. S. Cordingley & Co., woolen mill, 2300 Washington street, was gutted with the exception of a stone wing, which was saved by the firemen. The building was a two-story wooden structure measuring 120 feet by 90 feet.

The Newton and Wellesley Fire Departments were assisted by Waltham, Boston, Watertown, Natick and Needham. The Waltham and Boston apparatus remained on the Newton side of the river to fight the blaze at the Cordingley plant, while Watertown, Natick and Needham assisted the Wellesley department. The fire started in the Wellesley Woolen Co. plant, spread to the building of the Lenk Manufacturing Co., 20 feet away, and the flames leaped across the river which is about 60 feet wide there.

Advance Gifts Committee of Community Fund Holds Meeting

Workers Meetings Begin October 6 Funds Urgently Needed for 1947

F. Brittain Kennedy, Chairman of the Advance Gifts Division in Newton in the forthcoming campaign of the Greater Boston Community Fund, entertained his Assistant and Village Chairmen at his home recently and outlined the program for the Division.

In discussing this year's campaign, Mr. Kennedy stated that with costs of Red Feather Agencies up and demand for services increased, repairs having been postponed and capital in some cases curtailed to meet annual operating expenses, it is apparent that this is a year of challenge. To enable these agencies to carry on their health and social services to humanity, it should be plain to everyone that there can be no let-down in effort to raise the funds that will be required to meet 1947 needs.

Mr. Kennedy announced that the usual Advance Gifts Dinner will be eliminated this year and stressed the importance of 100 per cent attendance at the workers meetings which are to be held beginning October 6th. Preliminary solicitation work will start immediately and the conclusion of the Advance Gifts campaign (Continued on Page 10)

Fire Dept. to Hold Demonstration at Newton Corner, Sun.

The Newton Fire Department will inaugurate "Fire Prevention Week" (October 8-14) with a public demonstration of apparatus, equipment and training evolutions at Station 1, Washington street, Newton Corner, Sunday afternoon, October 8, from 2:30 o'clock.

The drill team will be under the supervision of Lt. John L. Martin, drillmaster. In connection with the observation, Chief John L. Keating made the following plea:

"The significance of National Fire Prevention Week should be remembered, not just for this week, but every week in the year. During this week everyone should try and eliminate every known fire hazard in his home and place of business. It is our duty to help make the City of Newton the safest city there is to live and work in. With the help of everyone living here we can do it."

Scouts Hold "Green Bar" Training Conference at Nobscot

One hundred and ten junior leaders and adults attended a weekend "Green Bar" training conference at the Nobscot Reservation in Framingham of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, a "Red Feather Agency," of Newton and Wellesley this weekend.

The program included demonstrations of personal first aid, rope work, cooking, knife and axe, and a tracking pit layout. The adult staff comprising Scout Commissioner Edward C. Michaud, Assistant Scoutmaster Fred Cole of Troop 6, Squanto District Commissioner Walter Chase, Troop 20, Committeeman Amos Kent, and Scout Executive Robert E. Pettit, demonstrated the projects on Saturday afternoon to the junior leader selected to direct each cabin. On Sunday, the patrol leaders repeated the demonstration before the Scouts of the various groups.

The Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, conducted the "Scout's Own" service on Sunday morning. The Rev. Martin J. P. Dolphin of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, who is the Council's Catholic Scout Chaplain, conducted Mass on the reservation.

A highlight of the weekend program was the Saturday night campfire, presented by Norumbega's Rovers, who were headed by Scoutmaster Donald Fifield, Troop 7-A.

Our Civic Duties

Newton has more civic-minded citizens than most places, but how many people have the habit of contributing cash to civic ventures without realizing that a little personal work thrown in would do wonders in accomplishment.

Many members of Congress are willing to fight for us when we point out the need, but how many of us state our case even briefly to these public servants. Recently we listened to an appeal from our junior Senator as to what needs attention and how. National issues are becoming more clearly defined and we must speak our views to the candidates we wish to see elected. The dire need of our age is active political support for good men. The leftists put up a better fight in some directions because practically all of them perform some task, while good citizens will supply the means yet withhold active personal participation as unbecoming, in their erroneous reasoning. Let's get busy and

1. Register as voters and get other to register.
2. Become acquainted with political leaders and public officials.
3. Study public questions and the views of local leaders.
4. Insist on knowing what all candidates stand for.
5. Vote and help to get out the vote.

We may not get everything we want, but we always have a right to be heard, and we can do our level best. Let's be fair and seek support right out in the open for convictions which we are proud to back. After all, officeholders invariably represent fairly accurately the kind of people who voted for them. It's time to think of elections.

Community Council Congratulates Advisory Committee

A letter commending the Citizens' Advisory Committee on its outstanding service to the community, was received by Chairman Roy E. Edwards last Saturday. The letter, from William M. Cahill, chairman of the Newton Community Council, follows: Mr. Roy E. Edwards, Chairman Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans 345 Walnut Street, Newtonville, Mass.

Dear Mr. Edwards: The Governing Board of the Community Council wishes to congratulate the Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans — its board, its executive and staff — for the fine manner in which they served the community during the war and in helping veterans readjust themselves into civilian life.

It is also commendable that the Committee has recognized the fact that these services are no longer necessary inasmuch as the Veterans Bureau and other agencies can now carry on that which was simply a job of filling a need until the state and federal agencies were ready to take over.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM M. CAHILL,
Chairman.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Pearson on Russia

Drew Pearson of Merry-go-round fame frequently writes columns which are hard for conservative citizens to take in stride. Like our own Bill Cunningham, he pulls no punches. On Sept. 30, however, Pearson really performed a public service of great importance, in the opinion of your columnist. He outlined a possible five-year plan for peace with Russia, including the following planks, which I shall try to find time to discuss in detail later on this fall. First, a five-year moratorium on all rearmament. Then, teaching Russian in our schools and English in Russian schools. Interchange of leading musical organizations in each country.

Next, establishment of an American newspaper in Moscow, printed in the Russian language in order to explain the American viewpoint to the Russian people, with a similar Russian paper published in New York to explain Russia to the American people. Installation of an American radio station in Moscow and a Russian station in New York to broadcast the respective viewpoints of the Russian and American peoples, together with cultural music and drama. Most important of all, possibly, the interchange of students between the two countries, starting with 25,000 the first year, 50,000 the second year, 100,000 the third year, etc. Also, organization of U.S. and U.S.S.R. sports contests. Finally, asking Henry Wallace Ambassador to Moscow, THAT I'll grant, might stir up some little opposition to the entire plan.

Think this over seriously. Maybe Drew Pearson has made a real contribution toward the improvement of American and Soviet relations.

Housing in Newton

As a long-time resident of Newton, it disturbs me greatly to have a leading Boston newspaper devote a part of its front page and a lot more space inside to a critical blast at our local government. The theme happened to be housing and the people firing the blast were veterans of the past war.

Both our Mayor and our Board of Aldermen were severely taken to task for having failed to take any constructive steps toward solving the critical housing shortage. The impression was given that Needham was much more on its toes than Newton.

Now, it troubles me to write anything at all about this matter, but I see nothing to be gained by ignoring it, in view of the fact that so many people are talking about it, both before and after the publicity in the Boston paper. Perhaps it is high time that there is a real showdown. Maybe our critics on the home-front do not know all the facts of the matter. Maybe our local government is not appreciative of the growing seriousness of the housing situation. In this connection, I was amazed to learn that only two of our twenty-one Aldermen were supposed to have a thorough understanding of the problem. Furthermore, these two Aldermen were NOT the two whom I would have assumed were the sole hope of our returned veterans. They were, instead, two men who have only relatively recently been elected to the Board. Think that over. Let's go, gentlemen.

Congressman Herter

Our own Congressman, Christian A. Herter, is currently doing the best job he can, minus the co-operation of the entire Democratic delegation in Congress, to learn the facts in connection with the current meat shortage. The hearing at the State House developed some interesting facts and resulted in a number of worthwhile suggestions for improving the situation. Governor Tobin, far from cooperating with Congressman Herter, is reported to have asked an important official to stay away from the proceedings. However, the Governor has been conducting a little investigation of his own and appears to have dug up a substantial amount of beef, although much of it is Army material. The balance is reported to belong to hotels and restaurants, to say nothing of night clubs. Observers are doubtful about much of this meat getting into the hands of the general public.

Duties of Governor's Council

From time to time I propose to discuss the duties of the Governor's Council. Our own member of this Council is Councillor Otis M. Whitney of Concord, the home of the late Frank A. Brooks, who served so long and faithfully in that important body.

The three most important functions of the Council are the supervision of the financial affairs of the state, the power of pardoning inmates of our prisons and the confirmation of all appointments to the bench and allied appointments, plus some 500 Commissioners, Associate Commissioners, Department Heads and Trustees of various institutions. More about all three duties at a later date.

Mr. Frank H. Burt appeared before the Rapid Transit Commission, Thursday, in favor of an elevated road through the Newtons, and the relief of the streets from the dangers that beset all who have to go over the railroad crossings. He also spoke in behalf of cheaper rates of fare between Newton and Boston.

Youth, beauty and social distinction combined to make the reception tendered the presidential party by the ladies of the Newton Club, Saturday, a most brilliant affair.

Residents of Eddy street are justly kicking about the poor lights. On a dark night the street reminds the traveler of a by-way in an interior township where the residents are still using candles, preferring their brilliant illumination to that of gas or electricity.

50 Years Ago, Oct. 2, 1896

Mr. P. A. Murray, the carriage builder, has completed a handsome horse wagon to be used in place of the reel at Hose 7 house, Lower Falls. When the new wagon is put into commission the only reel in the city will have been taken out of service.

The new overhead bridge at Putnam street will be completed this week, and the railroad company will then close the Highland and Chestnut Street Crossings. It is proposed to raise the grade of the temporary tracks for the present to the level of the new bridge and create a new grade crossing, which will be continued till the grade crossings are all abolished. The new Washington Street Bridge will be opened in two weeks.

Mayor Goddard Asks Citizens Observe Fire Prevention Week

Citizens of Newton were called upon today by Mayor Goddard to take an active part in the nation's observance of Fire Prevention Week, starting October 6.

The mayor drew attention to President Truman's proclamation setting aside the week for annual observance. "President Truman," said the mayor, "has appealed to the nation to safeguard its resources against destructive fires. He stressed the danger of fire waste when this destruction is taking place at a time when our country is faced with a shortage of food, housing, and nearly every commodity essential to speedy reconversion to a peacetime economy and the fulfillment of our obligations to the war-torn countries and starving people of the rest of the world."

"Therefore, as Mayor of Newton I earnestly request every citizen and every organization to heed the President's appeal and to unite their efforts under the leadership of the fire department, chamber of commerce, and other agencies in inspecting all properties and premises so that fire hazards may be promptly detected and eliminated. Furthermore, I call upon our people to acquaint themselves with all circumstances and situations that are likely to cause the outbreak of fire and with the steps that should be taken when fire occurs."

At the same time Roy S. Edwards, President of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that the Chamber with the collaboration of the fire department had formulated an extensive program of activities for Fire Prevention Week.

The electric lights, by their failure to illuminate Sunday night, caused the place (Newton Lower Falls) to be in total darkness.

The Waban and Windsor Hall preparatory schools have opened with a good attendance.

Mr. Fred A. Hubbard will occupy his store in the new Associates Block, corner Centre street and Centre avenue about Oct. 15.

Mr. Endicott Peabody Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill was nominated and immediately confirmed by the Governor's Council on Wednesday, as District Attorney for Middlesex County and began his work yesterday morning (Saltonstall succeeded Tufts).

That Newton residents are interested in the billboard situation was shown by the large attendance of ladies and gentlemen at the hearing held yesterday afternoon at the State House by the Highway Commission on 35 applications for permits to maintain billboards on Washington street, Commonwealth avenue, and Beacon street, after the aldermen of Newton had disapproved of such locations.

Mr. Lawrence B. Rice of Summer street (Newton Centre) defeated the national tennis champion, Mr. William T. Tilden in the semi-finals on Tuesday of the Rhode Island State Clay Court championship games at Providence.

which will enlist the efforts of all citizens in Newton.

The fire prevention program has been prepared by the Chamber's Fire Prevention Committee, of which Arnold C. Barker is chairman.

"We have the assurance," said Mr. Edwards, "that every organization in Newton is anxious to do its full part in making this essential post-war program a great success. Such organizations include the principal fields of business and industry, labor organizations, civic groups, clubs, churches, the press, theatres, schools, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts. "Fire," continued President Edwards, "must not be allowed to destroy much needed housing and business properties. Many of the properties and materials destroyed will not be able to be replaced for many months."

"Of course, fire cannot be completely eliminated in a single week, but Fire Prevention Week gives us the occasion to acquaint ourselves with the disruptive effect of fire, to arouse ourselves to effective action in preventing and protecting against fire, and to initiate fire safety programs that can continue throughout the year."

At Trinity Church Parish House, Newton Centre, on Thursday night October 17, 1946 Mr. A. C. Bobby Doerr Visits At Peabody Home

In a surprise visit to the Peabody Home for Crippled Children in Newton, "Bobby Doerr" star second baseman of the pennant winning Boston Red Sox, filled with joy the hearts of many children who have admired him and cheered him on through out the season.

This was "Bobbys" second visit to the home, as guest of the Newton Junior Community Club, which caused no end of enjoyment to the children as they are rabid Red Sox fans and to have their idol call on them will keep them happy for many a day to come.

The Newton Junior Community Club are sponsors for this entertainment and through the efforts of Mrs. Dorothy Murphy, publicity director of the club, Mr. Doerr was invited to visit the home. He was pleased and gladly gave his time to entertain the children.

From time to time different celebrities will be invited to the home, to say hello to the children.

Fr. Bransfield Tells K. of C. of His Chaplain Experiences

Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, curate at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, who served as chaplain of the Yankee Division in World War II, gave an account of his experiences as chaplain at the meeting of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus at Elk's Hall, Newton on Tuesday evening.

Fr. Bransfield holds the Bronze Star Medal for heroic achievement with the Third Army in Europe. He entered the Army on Jan. 16, 1941, and was the only Catholic chaplain in the 26th Division throughout the war. He participated in four major battles in Europe and was discharged with the rank of captain.

available all facilities of their school buildings, including proper rooms for individual parties and equipment of all kinds, such as pianos, radios, gym material and other party essentials. They are assisting in the selection of parent leadership, arranging for the distribution of tickets through their teachers, encouraging teachers to discuss with pupils the purposes of the parties and lending their moral support by attending the gatherings.

"And the teachers are co-operating beautifully," Mrs. Hovgaard went on. "Being in direct daily contact with their pupils, they are making the most of that opportunity to explain the real significance of Halloween and are further using it to teach good citizenship habits, especially inilling respect for other people's property. Of course, the children are encouraged to help plan the parties and in that way their imaginations are stimulated. Many of them design posters and others lend a hand with decorations. But perhaps one of the most important long-range results—which must surely favorably affect the children's attitudes in later years—comes through the teachers making this occasion a means to illustrate how a successful community project comes to fruition through the unselfish co-operation of all concerned in it. To me that means these children will grow up with an increasing realization of the value of good public relationship. And in the years ahead that means, too, better citizens and a better City."

The Newton Recreation Department—of which Mr. F. Ewing Wilson is Commissioner and Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, the Supervisor of Recreation—is the sponsoring agent for the 240 separate parties in 45 key centres throughout the City, in which some 12,000 children will participate.

"Such a vast celebration," said Mrs. Hovgaard, earnestly, "would be an impossible dream, were it not for the wonderful, all-out help given by the staffs of the City's schools and the eager co-operation of the innumerable parents who volunteer for the arduous and continuous committee work. All together, they are setting an example of community co-operative endeavor which is, I'm convinced, unequalled in any other city of comparable size in the East."

West Newton Couple Celebrate Their 50th Anniversary

Many friends and relatives visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Whelan, at their home, 32 Auburndale avenue, West Newton last Sunday when they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Surrounded by their three daughters, three sons and 19 grandchildren, the couple cut a huge wedding cake. Gifts included three bouquets, one of which contained $100 in $2 bills, while the other two each contained $5 $1 bills.

Well known in West Newton, where they have lived all of their married life, they are natives of Eire. Coming to this country 55 years ago, they met at the home of mutual friends here, and were married in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, Sept. 30, 1896 by Rev. Lawrence O'Toole.

Mr. and Mrs. Whelan have three sons, Motorcycle Officer William L. Whelan and Patrolman Joseph L. Whelan of the Newton Police Department, and Thomas J. Whelan of Arlington; three daughters, Mrs. Joseph E. Frazier and Mrs. James F. Maloney of Waltham and Mrs. Joseph I. Donahue of Wellesley Hills; also ten grandchildren. Four of the grandchildren who were unable to attend and who sent telegrams of congratulation, were Raymond Whelan, a senior at Princeton University; Kenneth Whelan, a member of the cast of "Annie Get Your Gun" at the Palace Theatre in New York; Nancy Jean and Norma Jane, twins, who are in Buffalo, New York.

Mr. Whelan who was employed by the city for 48 years was night watchman at the city stables on Auburndale avenue before he retired four years ago. He is a member of the Royal Arcanum and the St. Bernard's Holy Name Society.

John J. Delmonte, President of C.L.U. Kiwanis Speaker

John J. Delmonte, guest of the Newton Kiwanis Club, expressed the opinion, last Wednesday, that an invitation to speak at a businessmen's meeting was practically unheard of in Union Circles during the last decade. A mutual spirit of sympathy, co-operation and trust, plus the absolute dependence of both sides on each other, has prompted the present day "sit down and talk it over attitude" of business, particularly, Mr. Delmonte said.

Massachusetts labor, he continued, set up a record of production during the period from Pearl Harbor to V J Day. Loss of time due to strikes and absenteeism, he declared, was less than two per cent. Both Labor and Business are to blame for many of the current troubles. Both being overanxious to get things "going on high". The real trouble, however, concluded Mr. Delmonte, was our national economy.

DEDICATION

The entire Kiwanis Club, the staff of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children, and dignitaries of the city, dedicated the new fire alarm system at the Home, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 p.m. Mrs. Arthur Cushing, president of the board, at the Peabody Home, thanked the Kiwanis Club and assured them of her colleagues, and her own appreciation.

KIWANIS NOTES

Gov. Elect Everett Peshorn attended the Wednesday noon meeting. The Rev. Frederick Grootsema, pastor of the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands, attended this meeting, also, the guest of Kiwanian Secretary Harold Pillsbury. Harold Douglas, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was inducted to membership by Chief Nicholas Veducio. Carl Alvord, John Miller, Mark Hopkins and Frank Battles received one year perfect attendance pins from the 1st Vice President, Dr. Ernest Marcoux. Next week's speaker will be Mr. George E. Thompson, Middlesex County District Attorney.

150 Enrolled at Newton Jr. College

Classes began last Monday morning for the 150 students enrolled at the Newton Junior College. About 75 per cent of these students are veterans who entered classrooms for the first time in two or three years.

Several special facilities have been made for the Junior College students. A social room, otherwise known as the Blue Cloud, is available in Building two where the students can smoke and relax in the easy chairs and divans provided.

A separate library is provided in Room 2200 and special facilities are offered in the Newton Free Library, Newtonville Branch, to the students. Although truck strikes and paper shortages are hampering the delivery of textbooks, the college is off to a good start and the outlook for a successful year is highly optimistic.

Newton Club Activities

Auburndale Review Club

The first meeting of the Auburndale Review Club will be held in the Congregational Chapel, Oct. 8, at 10 A. M. The Club is pleased to extend to interested friends a cordial invitation to share the following program.

To start the year's study, "Wanderings in Yankee Land," Mrs. John E. Williams will present her paper, "Prologue to New England," and, through the courtesy of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R.R., two sound films, "This is New England," and "New England—Yesterday and Today," will be shown. These should be very interesting and instructive as they depict the growth of our section of the country from its early settlement. They take the observers on a delightful trip to Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket, along the coast from Connecticut to Maine, and inland to the Berkshires, through the White and Green Mountains, and the lakes of Maine. Mrs. James B. Patterson will then review the book "Kennebec—Cradle of Americans."

Following the program, transportation will be provided the members to the home of the President, Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, where they will conduct their business meeting and enjoy a friendly, social get together. Members will bring box lunches, and dessert and coffee will be served.

Homecrafters Club

The opening meeting of the Homecrafters Club for the 1946-47 season will be held on Monday, October 7, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Donald D. McKay, 46 Woodcliff Road, Newton Highlands.

Rockwell, New England Manager of the Rockwell Manufacturing Company which makes the "Crescent" line of industrial tools and the familiar "Delta" line of power tools, will be the guest speaker. Mr. Rockwell and an assistant will demonstrate the great variety of operations which can be performed on a drill press.

Rotary Club

Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the Arlington First Parish Church, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Speaking on "Preserving Our New England Heritage" Dr. Mark traced briefly the principle that through New England history had made New England great, particularly in the field of public thought and morals.

It is Dr. Mark's belief that if New England is to continue to wield national influence out of proportion to its area, and population, every New Englander must continue to adhere to the practice and principles of attentive enterprise and devotion to duty which characterized our forefathers. This was a most inspiring message and struck a responsive chord in the mind of every member present. One of the attractive features of Dr. Mark's presentation was his ability to combine humorous anecdotes and profound advice in the same sentence.

Men's Club of Newton Highlands

The Newton Highlands Men's Club held its first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, October 1.

The dinner, starting at 6:30, came well up to expectations for more and better food in this past year. This had been promised by the new dinner committee and it is felt that none was disappointed.

Following the dinner, President Earl M. Dushuttle showed to the club a sample card table cover that had been designed by five live members and of which 50 covers will be made and presented to the club for its use at proposed card parties. The cover comprises about 50 ads of local concerns and the receipts not only pay for the covers but also presents the club with a cash profit of about $200. The efforts of these five live members are appreciated by the club. Other features of activity are expected to follow throughout the season.

Colonel Edwin H. Cooper DSC, presented his colored movies of "Palestine Today" taken during the war. In these pictures, Col. Cooper gave the club an inside view of Palestine as he saw it and supplemented the pictures with a lecture portraying the high spirit and zest of the Jewish refugees in their new home. Most of these people have known extreme oppression and persecution and their appreciation of a chance at a life of freedom and liberty was apparent in both deed and expression. Their occupation is largely agriculture, and a back-to-the-land movement is most prominent in their absorption into the country. The improvement in the soil and the production of fruit and other crops which they have effected in a relatively short time are amazing and should go far toward rating them as welcome and profitable citizens.

It is particularly interesting to know that Col. Cooper found the Arabs and Jews living side by side as the best of friends and neighbors, even helping each other with the crops on adjacent farms, and he found this mutually friendly spirit the common rule everywhere. This first hand report is most gratifying and encouraging and makes us wonder at the adverse Palestine conditions we read about in our newspapers.

Col. Cooper was followed by Al Genaske, who presented a General Electric picture entitled "Clear Waters." This picture depicts the natural beauties and benefits of New England streams and lakes and the great loss and destruction brought about by stream pollution. It is hoped that public sentiment and pressure against water pollution will continue to increase and return to us the natural beauty and benefits of our inland waters.

THE FELLOW WHO DROPS A LIGHTED CIGARETTE ON THE ROAD THROUGH HIS CAR WINDOW MAY NOT BE AN ARSONIST AT HEART - BUT HE CAN CAUSE A FOREST FIRE! THE PERSON WHO SMOKES IN BED ISN'T INTENT ON DESTROYING HIS HOME, YET THAT'S A FREQUENT RESULT! THE HOUSEWIFE WHO COLLECTS OILY OR GREASY RAGS, DOES NOT WANT TO THREATEN HER FAMILY BUT A FIRE HAZARD LURKS IN THOSE RAGS. CLEAN OUT YOUR CELLAR, ATTIC OR STORE ROOM, NOW. RUBBISH INVITES FIRES!

School of Religious Education Begins Sessions Tuesday

The Norumbega School of Religious Education will hold sessions on seven Tuesday evenings at the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, beginning on Tuesday evening, October 8 with a Booster Rally at 7:30. Rev. Frederick Grootsema will give the opening address and his subject will be "A Man Sent from God."

Registration will be held the first night from 7 to 7:30 p.m., preceding the Booster Rally and also on October 15, the first night of the school sessions.

The school is accredited by the International Council of Religious Education. Certificates of credit will be awarded at the annual meeting to all those who satisfactorily complete five hours of class work and the required five hours of work assigned out of class.

This Training School aims to help Teachers, Officers, Ministers, young parents to increase their skills that they may more effectively discharge the obligation of their high calling. NORUMBEGA has an enviable record of service for the past quarter of a century. We believe that the courses offered by the strong and competent staff of this year's school will maintain that fine record.

Dr. Arbuckle and Mr. Parsons, Ministers of the First Church, will lead a Service of Holy Communion on the last night of the school, November 19th, 9:30-10:00.

For additional information phone or write the Dean, Rev. Arthur B. Clarke, Minister, North Congregational Church, Newton, LaSelle, 4634, 40 Bridge street, Newton 58, Mass., or Miss Lullona Barker, 64 Commonwealth road, Watertown, Mass. WATERTOWN 7730.

Norwegian Literary Figure Visiting in Newtonville

Ingeborg Rifling, twice recipient of Norway's most distinguished award for outstanding contributions to her country's literature and culture, will be visiting her brother, Gustav A. Hagen, at his home on Otis street in Newtonville from October 2 through the 9th. Another sister, Mrs. Louisa Larson, has come from Beloit, Wisconsin, to join them.

The brother and sister have not seen one another since Mr. Hagen took his bride, Mabel MacNeil Hagen, a successful writer of short stories, to visit his family in Norway where they lived at the head of a fjord in a picturesque, old-world setting.

Ingeborg Rifling is visiting the United States, under the sponsorship of Eleanor Roosevelt, to attend the International Assembly of Women to be held in New York from October 12 through the 24th. She has written forty-two books and now her diary of the war years is being sought for publication. It will be her first volume to be translated into English.

During the invasion of Norway she maintained from the start a militant opposition to the Germans and was blacklisted from 1936 on. She became to them a marked woman whom they sent to a concentration hospital. There, at her instigation and with the collaboration of the Norwegian doctors who staffed it, she refused food until she appeared to be too ill to live. For two years, in this way, she escaped being sent to Germany. She was then allowed to go home to die. While at home, and still under surveillance, she kept to her house, outwardly still playing the part of an ill and broken woman until Victory Day. That day she stepped from her house for the first time in a year. Her devotion and services both before and during the occupation have made her a revered national figure, symbolic of Norway's strength and purpose.

Her portrait hangs in the Parliament Building in Oslo. Another hangs in the State House and is called La Belle Liberté. It is directly opposite the doors and the first thing one sees on entering. A characteristic gesture of the country is that at victory, three months were set aside in which to celebrate.

Mr. Hagen is an architect of note.

Lions Club

The Newton Lions Club held its first Ladies' Night Dinner of the new season at the "X" on Thursday, with King Lion Frank Duncavay presiding. After welcoming the guests the King Lion turned the meeting over to First Vice-President Charlie Hall who was in charge for the evening.

First on the program was community sing along under the leadership of Lion Jack Tapper, the Lion Tamer, who presented the Lions Glee Club which has just been formed, and quite creditably, too, did the ladies perform. The accompanist, as usual, was "Doc" Charlie Hall. Through the efforts of Lion Tapper the members and guests, numbering over 60, were privileged to hear piano selections by Russell Blake Howe, one of the foremost concert pianists and pianoforte teachers in this vicinity. Mr. Howe's audience was enthralled by his excellent interpretations of difficult scores by Beethoven, Schubert and Liszt.

Following the enjoyable concert, technicolor sound movies of India in its splendor and of West Virginia were shown by Mr. Carleton Thrasher of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company, thus rounding out an enjoyable evening.

A prize for the evening, donated by Lion and Mrs. Roy Morgan, was won by Mr. Howe, the pianist, the winning number being drawn by Mrs. Duncavay, wife of the president of the club.

Our Town—

As always, the business began innocently. Sergeant Charles E. Walker, of the Newton Police Department, had been promoted to a lieutenant Tuesday, and to take over the duties of his office Wednesday evening at 5:45. So four of his friends informed your correspondent, as he parked in Newton Corner, at dawn, Wednesday, that he owed a certain amount of cash, so the florist would do the right thing by Walker's bouquet...

A NICE GESTURE...

It would be a nice gesture, too, they said, what with owning a typewriter and all, if a poem, something touching, was whipped up to fit the occasion. A poem! Strictly a lowbrow, we don't even read 'em. And what kind of poem does one male write to another? Life was rapidly becoming complicated!

Arriving in our town after the First World War, Walker declaring that they'd worked him pretty hard in the Navy, vowed he'd never be guilty of attempting laborious work again, and after marrying the prettiest girl in town, promptly became a member of the Newton Police Department. He worked in Newton Corner, nights, for many years, and that's where those of us who roam the town all night became acquainted with him. Now the Corner between the hours of 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. is a dizzy place. It always has been. The passing show is continuous, very often hilarious and always interesting. A group of men thrown together through the years are apt to become close. It was thus at the old transfer point.

Thousands of stories could be written about the nightly-daffy doings and the practical jokes perpetrated in this corner of the city. All of the Owls have had a generous helping of grief, as a result, but the greatest pleasure, always, was to pull a quickie on Walker. It still is...

TAKES ON GLOW...

So, the idea of doing a poem for the new lieutenant began to take on a slight glow, but with the usual complications. For one thing, this writer's favorite writer of verse, is a girl. A girl, we might mention, who, among other things, suffered a few unpleasant moments a few years ago, when the principal of Brookline High caught up with one of her better efforts—all due to nothing more than over-enthusiasm.

Well, over-enthusiasm in a poem addressed to a lieutenant of police might result in complications, too, and it was decided to call in Alderman Edward Fahey as an advisory committee of one, until it was recalled that Alderman Ed does a pretty good job of advising the lieutenant about this department's activities... Talk about complications!

LADY WRITES POEM...

However, the lady did write the poem—and it was a honey. Nelson McGrath delivered it with the bouquet just in the nick of time. This department went home to bed, exhausted after answering peddlers, telling the milkman to leave another quail and watching the oven, so the cake wouldn't fall—all the while the poetess wrote feverishly, as she resisted that impulse—a very difficult job.

The Moral? ... Have nothing to do with poems.

Uncle Willie's up to his old tricks again, but under the circumstances, the family's not saying a thing. It seems that sitting in the park last summer, he became acquainted with an Irishman, a Canadian and a wealthy old Yankee. The Yankee, ailing, promised them that if they'd each put ten dollars beside his body after he passed away, he would leave each of them $30,000.00 in his will. They shook hands all around on the deal and true to their promises, when the old Yankee died, the Irishman and the Canadian each visited his home where both placed a ten dollar bill at his side. Uncle Willie, however, dropping in after the Canadian and the Irishman had left, laid a check for thirty dollars beside the body of the old Yankee and picked up the two tens left by his companions.

Service Clubs to Sponsor Fire Prevention Program

Fire Prevention, the saving of lives from accidents and death and the saving of property from destruction by fire should be of primary importance to everyone. Generally, most fires are the direct result of carelessness and could have been prevented.

In an effort to try and stop many of these preventable fire losses, Chief John L. Keating of the Newton Fire Department has inaugurated a Fire Prevention Educational and Writing Program and a Fire Prevention Educational Poster Program for the Newton Public Schools.

These Educational Programs are being conducted with the cooperation of Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools.

The Fire Prevention Educational and Writing Program is being sponsored by the Newton Rotary Club, the Newton Kiwanis Club and the Newton Lions Club. The Fire Prevention Educational Poster Program is being sponsored by the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Both of these programs are being held in the interest of helping the City of Newton reduce unnecessary fire losses and to acquaint the students with a better understanding of how their Fire Department operates.

The Educational and Writing Program is being held the week of October 6th to the 12th which is the National Fire Prevention Week. It is open to all students in the Newton Public Schools. They may submit any type of writing that they desire.

The subjects are to be on anything that will help reduce or prevent fires in the home, or help curb the sounding of false fire alarms.

The judges will be selected by the presidents of the various sponsoring organizations. They will make the awards as soon as they complete their findings.

The Educational Poster Program will start the same week but the finishing date will be December 20th.

This program is open to the third, fifth, seventh, and ninth grades and the commercial art students in the high school.

All of the posters will be under the supervision of Miss Ellen Elliott, Director of Arts.

The judges will be Mr. Lester Peterson, noted poster designer, for the artistic ability and attractiveness. Mr. Roy Edwards, President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, for the sponsoring organization, and Chief John L. Keating, chief of the Newton Fire Department for the value in Fire Prevention work.

The outstanding materials in both of these programs will be used by the Newton Fire Department to further the work of Fire Prevention in all parts of the city.

ON THE INSIDE

by MARVIN R. GOULD

The other night at Johnson's a group of Newton teen agers started a rumor that Bob Doerr and Ted Williams were inside. Newcomers started to pour in, in search of the two ball stars who were not there. However, the crowd settled for the autographs of Bob Seamon and Mel Millender.

This year N.H.S. is bound to win the state high jump and hurdles in track. The reason for the above statement which sounds and is quite forward is because I have just learned that Jerry Wise, former track star of Tabor Academy, who has run at Madison Square Garden in New York and at the present time holds the title of third best high jumper and hurdler of the entire Continental United States, will be one of the many athletes out for track this year. I might add at this time that Jerry is tops in football and the only reason that he was not eligible to play this year was due to the fact that N.H.S. has a ruling that when a student transfers from some other school he is not eligible for sports for a period of two months. Maybe if Jerry was in the Newton Football Team they would be making a much better showing they have made in dropping their past two games.

While we are on the topic of football I should like very much to retract the statement I made last week concerning Newton having a top notch team, the material for such a team is on hand at the school but there seems to be a little thing called spirit that is lacking. Rumor has it that a certain group of fellows who are potential football stars refuse to go out for the team because of a little grievance they have against the coach. All I can say is, kid stuff. Why don't you fellows who have what it takes to make football players smarten up by forgetting the past and thinking of the present and the future?

The Newton Junior College opened last Monday with an overflowing student body of vets and non-vets who hope to transfer to Colleges in the near future. Good luck fellows.

Mr. Stuart Holmes, English teacher of last year is now an editor at D. C. Heath Publications. Charles Peltier, Social Studies instructor of last year is now teaching at Boston University.

Remember a team can't win when players give in. You know who I mean—former halfback get back in there and show what makes Newton teams fighting teams.

Fire—

Kenzie, engineer at the Cordingley plant, was the first of the day shift to arrive at work, when he saw the flames shooting from the buildings opposite. A few minutes later, the building in which he works was ignited by sparks blown by the high winds.

In the Newton plant a quantity of wool waste and irreplaceable machinery was destroyed. The undamaged portion of the factory is a stone mill built in Civil War days and used mostly for storage.

The first call received by Newton Fire Alarm Headquarters was an alarm from Box 145 at 6:47 A. M. for a Wellesley Box 349, which summoned only Engine 6 of Washington and Beacon streets, Newton Lower Falls. The second alarm came in from Box 512 at 7:19 A. M. and the third alarm was sounded from the same box at 7:45. Meanwhile, Wellesley had ordered a general alarm.

Newton apparatus was racing to the scene of the Wellesley fire when the firemen noted that the Cordingley mill was also ablaze and they devoted their attention to the Newton fire. All apparatus in the city responded. Three pieces of Waltham apparatus went to lend assistance, while a Lexington engine covered in at one of the Waltham stations.

All available policemen were on duty diverting traffic from the scene.

The Newton Chapter, Red Cross, Canteen and Motor Corps units arrived at the scene at 8:15 A. M. and served coffee to the fire fighters through the rest of the morning. Canteen workers included Mrs. Ernest McClure, chairman; Mrs. Edmund Miller and Mrs. John Kobrock. Motor Corps members assisting were Mrs. R. M. E. Badger, chairman; Mrs. C. Morley Lodge, Mrs. Stanley Stedfast and Mrs. T. J. Halpin.

The Newton firemen were still at work on the scene at 1 P. M. today. They worked under the direction of Chief John L. Keating and Deputy Chiefs John E. Corcoran and Francis J. Linnehan. Fifteen pieces of apparatus from the 10 stations in Newton were at the fire. At noon today only Engines 2 of West Newton, 3 of Newton Centre, 4 of Newtonville and 8 of Noantum had left the scene to return to quarters. r-8 Cooprt

Francis J. Cronin To Teach Music In Newton

In response to an ever increasing demand that Francis J. Cronin, nationally famous organist, teach his distinctive style of musical interpretation on piano and organ, he and his wife Catherine Curtin Cronin, concert pianist and organist, will start courses of study in piano, organ, voice, and interpretation at their home, 65 Allerton Road, Newton Centre, beginning the week of October 7.

Cronin, recognized as one of the country's leading organists, plays classical and semi-classical numbers every morning from 6:30 to 7 a.m. for early bird listeners of the Yankee Network throughout New England and later in the day on Yankee's frequency modulation stations, WMNE, Mt. Washington, New Hampshire, and WOTR, Paxton. The organ console on which he plays he designed himself and also supervised its construction. It is housed in a WNAC studio three stories high, the largest broadcast organ studio in the world.

Before joining the staff of the Yankee Network 15 years ago, Cronin was long identified with theatres all over New England, including the Metropolitan in Boston, The Capitol in Allston and the Olympia chain, where he also had charge of organ installation and design.

He began study of piano when he was eight years old and six years later was organist at St. Paul's Church in Cambridge. At 17 he conducted a male chorus.

With his wife, Catherine, lovely and talented organist and pianist who studied under DeVoto, the musical Cronins have lived in Newton Centre for nineteen years. The three younger daughters, Catherine, Patricia, and Rosemary are all studying piano, while Edith is an accomplished pianist. Young George is a drum virtuoso and Francis, Jr., is a great ballplayer, what his father longed to be at his age.

Ernest M. Skinner, music authority said of Francis J. Cronin in the American Organist: "He is an organist with a unique dramatic sense and a facility in improvisation so rich and buoyant and so original that it puts him in a class by himself."

—Men's suit manufacturers are getting sufficient wool cloth to permit record production. They hope to turn out 25 million suits this year, compared with a pre-war average annual production of 20 million.

The most serious railroad wreck occurred on December 24, 1933 near Paris, France, when 180 persons were killed and more than 300 injured.

November he was Director of The University of Scouting. Mr. Michaud will announce the personnel of his Council Commissioner's Staff in the near future.

to answer some of the problems confronting parents such as "Is the average family an armed camp between the child and adults?" "What is good family procedure?" "Is rebellion normal?" "What fears do children have about the family?" "How can strong tribal relationships be built within the family?"

Both Dr. Chase and Mrs. Burrows are well qualified to undertake answering these questions. Dr. Chase is a professor of education at Boston University and was formerly moderator of the radio program "Junior Town Meeting of the Air." Mrs. Burrows is a trained and experienced psychiatric social worker and is at present a research assistant for the Glueck Study at Harvard University. She is also Regional vice-president of the Massachusetts Parent Teachers' Association. Harold B. Gores, assistant superintendent of the Newton Schools, will preside at the opening meeting.

The lectures will all be held in the auditorium of the Newton High School and will start at 8 p. m. There is no charge for admission; no tickets are necessary. All Newton parents are cordially invited to attend any one or all of these meetings. These programs were initiated and arranged by a group of Newton parents with the assistance of educators and professional people for the express purpose of answering many of the questions which many Newton parents feel are common problems.

Newton Smothered By Rindge Tech, 12-0

The rapier-like plunges of Tommy Heise and Billy Gilbert provided the oomph that gave an alert Rindge Tech a 12-0 win over an uncertain and slow moving Newton High eleven Saturday in a slam-bang game at the Dickinson Stadium.

The hard-running Tech backs, seemingly out to prove that a straight line is the shortest path between two points, won their point against the circling tactics of the Newton runners and at no time did the Garden City team threaten the Rindge goal. The upset was Rindge's first win over Newton since 1934.

Only for one brief moment did Newton violate Rindge territory. That was in the last period when they forced the ball to the Rindge 43-yard line in a 27-yard spurt.

The first Rindge touchdown came in the opening period at the end of a march from the Newton 41.

Gilbert and Heise went into action again in the third quarter and, aided by some Newton ill luck, combined their talents for another score. The spree started from the Newton 46.

Gilbert was hit on the face by a Newton knee while he was on the ground. He arose groggy and the officials decreed that Newton had been unnecessarily rough, although the whole thing seemed accidental. A 15-yard penalty put the ball on the Newton 8, and after three plays Heise carried over for the score.

Rindge Tech (12)—Le. McCaffrey, Eugene; lt. O'Sullivan, De-guilelmo; lg. Perry, McGorty; e. Gishoune, Fitzgerald; rg. Maher, Griffin; rt. Fugione; re. Cleary, Hansis; qb. Spillane, Collins; lbh. Gilbert; rlb. Heise, Donnellis; fb. Rutter.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

Newton's fire loss for the year 1945 was $102,584.67. This is the highest it has been for several years. With the cooperation of every citizen we can lower our fire losses now so that next year we may win a higher award for safety.

If every home and business establishment in Newton will observe and act on the following items they will eliminate many of the common hazards.

1. Winter accumulation of trash and paper—Act now to remove them from the attics, cellars, closets, garages and barns or sheds.
2. Salvage drives—Cooperate fully. This means tying up papers and delivering them to salvage stations or putting them out for collections as soon as possible. Also deliver clothing to agencies that collect clothing for the war-waraged countries.
3. Matches and smoking—Decide on safety rules. No smoking near combustible decorations or costumes. Keep sufficient ash trays handy. Be sure matches and "smokes" are out before disposing of them. DO NOT SMOKE where "NO SMOKING" signs are displayed. They are there for your protection. Do not smoke in bed. Painful burns or asphyxiation may result.
4. Spontaneous ignition—After repair work or painting, clean up thoroughly to avoid danger from accumulations of paint rags, oil rags and saturated sawdust and shavings. Tightly closed metal cans should be used for keeping these items, as well as oil mops and cleaning cloths. Do not store these articles on stairways or in halls. If they should ignite they might cut off your escape.
5. Electrical hazards—Increased use of electrical equipment during long winter nights may result in defects. Replace or repair frayed cords. Make sure all fuses are of correct size (usually 15 amperes). Do not permit the use of dangerous substitutes for fuses that have blown. Employ a competent electrician for new or repair work. Do not lay cords under rugs or in places where they will be walked on.
6. Cleaning with gasoline—This is dangerous because all such fluids vaporize quickly and explode violently when ignited by the smallest spark. Even a static spark developed from the action of rubbing materials together in the cleaning process, will ignite the fumes, if there is no other source of ignition present. Use a "non-explosive" cleaning fluid or better still take your clothing to a reputable cleaner.

Let us all do our very best in this contest and put Newton in number one place as the safest city there is to live in.

Banks Resume Sat. Business Hours
Savings banks in Massachusetts resume their customary business hours this month, and will be open for business next Saturday, October 5th, it was announced yesterday by Kenneth

McDougall, Executive Manager of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. During the past summer, many banks in accordance with a new law passed by the legislature last winter, and with the practice of many business firms, were not open for business on Saturdays during June, July, August and September. "The summer schedule of business hours for savings banks," said Mr. McDougall, "ended September 30th, and the banks will again be open for business next Saturday, October 5th at their regular hours."

As a replacement for war-scarce copper, 1,094,278,670 zinc plated steel pennies were minted in 1943. They were discontinued after one year.

Stronger Body Helps This New Tire OUTWEAR PREWAR TIRES

See Us for this Extra-Safe, Extra-Trouble-Free, Extra-Mileage Tire

No sensible driver would deliberately run his tires over a rock like the one in the picture. But sometimes it can't be helped... and that's when you will be glad if you have new B.F. Goodrich passenger car tires. Built with more and stronger cords, the tire body is better engineered and 35% stronger than in wartime tires. This extra strength was needed to carry the wider, flatter tread. But in building this stronger body to hold the more durable tread, B.F. Goodrich engineers built into it greater resistance to "road shock."

Of course, supplies of tires are still limited. In spite of greatly increased production, demand is even greater. This is especially true of the B.F. Goodrich tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES. Please check your needs well in advance. Talk to us. We'll do our best to keep your car rolling until we can get new tires for you.

OUR TOWN AFTER MIDNIGHT

By PAUL CONSIDINE

It's maybe the Worlds Series, or possibly the full moon that's responsible for the antics of the moonlighters during the past week. Whatever it is, nobody wants to go home any more. Time was, when the clock struck four, our town's streets would be pretty well deserted except for those who were ending a long day late, or were beginning a new one early. Now, however, traffic's moving through here all night. Even in Newton Highlands, long noted as an early to bed neighborhood, the neighbors' children are ushering in the dawn with increasing frequency.

DANNY. Incidentally, although there's been much criticism directed in the general direction of the Red Sox front office concerning the manner in which the Worlds Series tickets were distributed among the faithful followers of the team, somebody in that office possesses a goodly share of the milk of human kindness, and did all right by a young roofer here, Danny Murphy, an infantile paralysis victim since childhood.

Danny, a rabid fan, attended almost all the local team's home games and, as did so many others, applied for series tickets in the prescribed manner . . . receiving, as did so many others, the sad news that none were available. Not to be disappointed, Danny prepared his winter clothes, polished his crutches and set himself for the all night vigil outside Fenway's bleacher gates.

Mayor Goddard Stresses Civic Value of Halloween Celebration

Mrs. Frederick Sayford Bacon, (Continued on Page 4)

"To the casual observer, these Halloween parties may merely indicate that hundreds of men and women must have done a great deal of work to give 12,000 school children a good time — and that the parents, teachers, professional men and City officials who served on the committees deserve much credit for their generous outpouring of energy in planning the 240 separate gatherings.

"But, true as that is, to me this celebration signifies far more. I believe that the splendid example of good citizenship being set by these men and women will make

DR. HAROLD C. STUART

Dr. W. Linwood Chase, Professor of Education at Boston University and Mrs. Ava E. Burrows, Psychiatric Social Worker and Research Assistant at Harvard University were the speakers last Monday evening at the first of a series of four lectures entitled "We the Parents" held at Newton High School under the auspices of the Newton Community Council and the Council of Parent-Teachers' Associations with the cooperation of the Newton Public Schools and the Newton Health Department. Introduced by Harold B. Gores, Assistant Superintendent of Newton Schools, Mrs. Burrows and Dr. Chase discussed parent-child relationships, turning the spotlight on family problems and suggesting solutions. Mrs. Burrows pointed out that patterns for peace of mind are made at birth; that satisfactory adult living depends greatly on understanding and encouragement

Red Cross Secretary Honored at Luncheon

Miss Louise Jellerson, for the past twenty years Executive Secretary of the Newton Red Cross, was honored at a luncheon on Tuesday, at the Chapter House, by the many volunteers who had worked with her since 1926. Coming to the Newton Chapter when all activities emanated from one little room on Austin street, Miss Jellerson directed the local Red Cross work practically single-handed until World War II brought increased volunteers and responsibilities. Even when the move was made to the larger and more spacious quarters on Foster street, Miss Jellerson remained as a potent factor in Newton Red Cross community and war-time projects. Even though she is resigning as Executive Secretary, the Newton Chapter is not losing her services, for Miss Jellerson expects

Politics With Color

The Next Congress

A form letter has just come in from the "Life Insurance Policy-Holders Protective Association," located in New York. This outfit was formerly the "The Peoples Committee to Defend Life Insurance and Savings." I know nothing whatever about this organization, which has an Advisory Board of thirteen rather prominent businessmen scattered all over the country. The only Massachusetts man is Dwight W. Ellis of Monson, Mass., President of A. D. Ellis Mills, Inc. Looking up Monson, I find that it is a small town in Hampden County which cast 1,861 votes in the last state election.

Now, the interesting part of the letter I received is this. This organization is trying to arrange for the mailing of 5,000,000 letters and leaflets, which have the following caption:—"Will you take 50 cents for your life insurance DOLLAR?" Also, "What is your life insurance worth today?" It insists that a policyholder's only protection in the future lies in the defeat of all CIO-PAC controlled Congressmen. That, they infer, means chiefly a large number of Democratic members of the lower branch of Congress.

Note how very thoroughly this group has gone into the current political situation. It lists 27 Democrats who won their seats in the 1944 election by less than 3 percent of the total vote. It gives the names of the Congressmen and the district which each one represents. (Incidentally, it is of interest to note that the much-publicized Rep. Slaughter of the Fifth Missouri district, in which Mr. Truman intervened successfully in the recent primaries, won by only 2.55 of the total vote. In other words, if Rep. Slaughter and his friends bolt the new nominee, a man named Axel, the G.O.P. has an excellent chance to win this seat.)

Also listed are 33 Republican Congressmen, including Rep. John W. Heslton of Deerfield, Mass., representing our First Congressional district, who won their elections in 1944 by less than 3 percent of the total vote. Obviously, the republicans must hold these 33 seats next November 5 as well as turn out the 27 Democrats whose winning margins were equally slim.

If my readers are interested in the number of New England sons listed, may I say that there are four republicans, one each from Massachusetts and New Hampshire and two from Connecticut. There are three Democrats on the list and they are all from Connecticut. Of the two republicans from Connecticut, one is the famous Claire Booth Luce, who has retired. She won by only 5 percent of the total vote.

I wonder why some of our political groups have not done this sort of thing.

Republican Club of Mass.
How very refreshing it was to read in the mid-October G.O.P. News Letter, published by the Republican Club of Massachusetts, that the club's Executive Board, by a unanimous vote endorsed the Barnes Bill, dealing with labor union reports. The President of this club, Mr. Douglas Lawson, was instructed, along with the chairman of the Board, Mr. Willis McLean, to transmit a copy of this vital resolution to Attorney General Clarence A. Barnes, for whatever use he may wish to make of it.

It occurs to me that there may be several hundred thousand voters, Republicans and independents, who are still disturbed by the failure of the Republican high-command to even MENTION the Barnes bill in the official party platform adopted at Symphony Hall less than three weeks ago. Why do we bother with party platforms anyway? They almost never meet the real issues of the day. And yet the professional politicians baffle the many thousands of stay-at-home voters for their lack of interest. It is to laugh.

State Campaign

The state campaign has not yet been discussed at great length in this space. The main reason is that most of the important candidates have been indulging in some very quiet, intensive campaigning all over the state. Even the shy and unassuming Arthur W. Coolidge, the G.O.P. nominee for Lt. Governor, has been extraordinarily active. He has been making votes, too, even against as stout a campaigner as former Attorney General Paul A. Dever. In ordinary years, the public would be getting its fill of politics right after Labor Day. This year, however, we have had the unusual World Series situation. The capitals are intentional, because the polls have realized that Greater Boston has gone baseball mad and just won't bother with political speeches and literature. It is just as well. Many of us have believed that campaigns were spread out over too long a period. A short, snappy campaign, during which the candidates are forced to learn to condense what they would LIKE to say, is more helpful to the average voter, who is apt to get sick and tired of the whole business long before election day.

Next week I shall have a little detailed comment about the contests on the state ticket and especially about the Lodge-Walsh fight, which is really a honey.

Veterans Housing

As I had hoped, there was a definite reaction to last week's comment on the handling of the housing situation by our city government. Those in high places responded quickly.

Rotary Club

Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Speaking of "The Housing Problem in Newton" Mr. Thompson said, "In the demand for homes Newton has ranked at the top of Massachusetts municipalities. During the depression while other cities were losing in population Newton continued to grow, with an estimated population at present of about 80,000."

"This city has an excellent zoning plan, to which we should strictly adhere if we want Newton to remain the Garden City. If we do, we can have a population of 100,000 and still maintain all the advantages we treasure at the present time."

The need for homes is here. The purchaser is ready. Private financing is awaiting the opportunity for construction to proceed. That demands initiative, enterprise, finances are at a standstill because of the control exercised by the Federal Government. Hopefully he predicted that all these controls would be off by February 1, 1947 and that the latter part of the year and 1948 would be good for construction of homes. Costs would probably be about 40 percent above prewar costs, but considerably less than present prices. Why has the demand for homes in Newton always been high? Mr. Thompson raised this question and answered it. "A good public school system."

over station WNAC four members of the Club will appear on the program "Quizzing the Wives." Mesdames Theodore Friedricks, Darragh J. Higgins, Walter Jehu, Eric J. Kermath, the club president, will be questioned by representatives of the Boston Consolidated Gas Co., in the hope they will be the high-point four some of the week and receive the cash award.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the All Newton Music School was held on Friday morning, October 4, at the new home of the school, 398 Walnut street, Newtonville. Coffee was served at ten o'clock, followed by inspection of the building.

At eleven o'clock, a business meeting was held at which the president of the board, Mrs. George H. Fernald, presided. Mrs. Fernald spoke a word of greeting and welcome at what she called "an historic moment." The clerk, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, gave a report on developments incident to the preparations of the house for occupancy in time to open the school in September.

Plans for a formal house warming were discussed and it was voted to set a time in the near future for such an event.

Trustees present included Mrs. George H. Fernald, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr., Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, Miss Mabel T. Eager, Mrs. George N. Abbott, Mrs. Eugene Lebert, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Mrs. A. Philip Guiles.

The All Newton Music School is pleased to announce that an organ department has been added to the organization. Mr. Ivar Sjöström, organist of the Second Church in West Newton and well known in musical circles of greater Boston, has recently become a member of the faculty as teacher of organ.

The Music School is now able to offer this opportunity for organ instruction under most favorable conditions. Provision for practice periods as well as for lessons will be arranged at nominal fees for students who are interested in becoming organists. Needless to say, this work will be on the same high level as all instruction at the school and will meet a need long felt by the directors.

Chairmen, Assistant Chairmen, and Majors of the 13 Residential Villages was held in the Nurses' Home at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital on Thursday evening, October 3. John F. Brown, Chairman of the Residential Division, presided and introduced Dr. Hamilton of the Hospital, who told briefly of the present problems of the hospitals. Dr. Hamilton stated that Newton-Wellesley was caring for 250 patients per day and that the total number of patients in the Hospital this year will total over 6500. He said that it requires approximately one and one-half nurses to take care of each patient and that of each dollar of income to the Hospital approximately 10% is for general expense, 25% for household and property expense, 23% for food, and 42% for professional care of patients. He further stated that Newton-Wellesley Hospital is classified as a teaching hospital approved by the American Nursing Association for the training of nurses, by the American Medical Association for the training of internes, and also by the American College of Surgeons and the Massachusetts and American Hospital Associations. In conclusion he said, "We have a fine hospital, one of which may be justly proud and one which renders visably vital service to our community, a service which the community has supported through the lean depression years and which should be supported in the present period of good times."

At the luncheon of the Metropolitan Division of the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign, held at campaign headquarters in Boston on Monday, Oct. 7th, Newton was one of five metropolitan cities and towns reporting more than 75% enrollment. At the luncheon Mr. Jack Lacy of Newton Centre, the principal speaker and Campaign Chairman of Worker Information, gave valuable pointers for Red Feather solicitors. during early years; and that mutual respect, confidence and trust between parents and children builds a pattern for family living and adult achievement.

Dr. Chase approached the problem by discussing such phases of the family as whether the father or mother is a better disciplinarian, family conversations, big issues versus trifles, late hours and dates, the family as a unit, how parents annoy children, allowances and giving independence to the child. He summed up by pointing out that parents are people and that the solution to happy family living comes by living together as people instead of by investigating by diverse ways children's actions and reactions and trying to find the answers in books.

Dr. Harold C. Stuart will be the speaker for the second program of the "We, the Parents" series next Monday evening (October 14) at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Newton High School. Dr. Stuart is a professor of Pediatrics and Child Hygiene at the Harvard School of Public Health.

At this time of year when children are returning to school and their weight and growth and physical well-being are being checked, it is well for parents to consider what this means and be prepared to interpret it correctly. Children are not capable of promoting their own development without guidance, and in many cases their parents are not well enough versed in the modern world and its necessities to permit the full development possible for their children.

Dr. Stuart will discuss common physical handicaps, posture, over and underweight. He will review methods of combating and treating common colds, acne, skin disorders, allergies, and children's diseases. Dr. Stuart will comment on the relationship of growth and development to nutrition, and what should be expected of the schools in the matter of physical and health education.

Following Dr. Stuart's address, members of the audience will be asked by Dr. Chester M. Alter, presiding chairman, to pose questions to the speakers.

After a delicious luncheon, served by members of the Canton Corps, Miss Jellerson was presented with a beautiful wrist watch as a token of the great esteem in which she is held by those who have worked with her. Former H.S. Teacher Killed in Accident In Germany

Word has been received here of the accidental death in Salzburg, Germany of Mrs. Lucille (Jones) Beerbaum, who previous to her marriage last October had taught at the Newton High School for four years.

Mrs. Beerbaum with her husband, Alfred Beerbaum, had arrived in Germany last Thursday where they were to teach in schools for Army dependents. They were on a visit to Salzburg Castle when Mrs. Beerbaum was instantly killed when struck by a bus. She was in her 32nd year and was the daughter of Supt. of Schools Burr F. Jones and Mrs. Jones of Plymouth.

a lasting impression on the children. For it unmistakably demonstrates to them that an enterprise can succeed only if thought and effort and co-operation are freely and unselfishly given. It proves to them, further—especially as they participate in these gatherings year after year and become increasingly aware of the pleasure the committees derive from their accomplishment—that personal sacrifices, made when lending a hand to a great common cause, are richly repaid in a feeling of deep satisfaction. In a word, they learn that doing something for other brings its own priceless, spiritual reward.

"Most of those 12,000 children will some day reach voting age. Certain of them will eventually be elected to manage the affairs of the City. It seems to me that these Halloween parties, in all their ramifications, provide a graphic illustration of good citizenship relationship that will linger in the children's minds through their growing years and will ultimately rebound to the good of Newton.

"I hope, as the loyal committee members watch the results of their labors on Halloween and sense the happiness for which they are responsible, that they will not forget they have done more than simply furnish an evening of delightful entertainment; they have helped make each child a better citizen today

Russia Promoting Communism, R. H. Markham Tells Audience

Addressed Fall Meeting of Community Council Last Thursday

R. H. Markham, foreign correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, spoke to the fall meeting of the Newton Community Council October 3rd. His subject was "World Events as They Effect Main Street, U.S.A."

Mr. Markham said that it was with regret that he spoke about world events, about sad happenings, in almost all the countries on almost all the continents to people who had gathered here to make constructive plans for their own community, for feeding those who are hungry, and finding dwellings for those who have none, and helping to build a better world. However, world events do affect us and Americans are showing a great interest in them. World events are centered around the differences of views between Russia and the rest of the world.

Mr. Markham went on to say that while during the war we all worked together to defeat Nazism and to make one world, and that in the post-war world we hoped for contributions from every country and co-operation in this new world of freedom. All during this time Russia was carrying out a plan of conquest. Russia, while fighting, was creating a network throughout the whole of Europe.

Picture life in Newton under this system—our courts, schools, and every social organization dominated by communists. In Bulgaria the communists seized and jailed the president of the Federated Women's Clubs in order to dominate those organizations.

How does that affect Main Street? What can we do? The first step is to see those things, quit closing our eyes. Secondly, we must back our government, and give them power to make a firm policy. Make no more concessions. Let the Russians govern themselves as they like in their own country, but keep despotism out of the rest of the world. Third, every American can try to make our land a better place in which to live.

William M. Cahill, Chairman of the Council, presided at the meeting. Thomas E. Shirley presented the report of the Nominating Committee which was accepted by the delegates, voting in two new organizations to membership in the Council, the Newton Council of Churches and the Newton Newcomers Club.

Mr. Lawrence B. Damon, President of the Newton Community Chest, told the delegates of the forthcoming Greater Boston Community Fund campaign which gets underway within the next few weeks.

Scouts Hold Fall Round-up of Leaders at Nobscot

The annual Fall Roundup of adult Leaders of Norumbega Council—Newton and Wellesley, a Red Feather Agency—took place Sunday, October 6 at Nobscot Reservation in Sudbury. More than 135 adult Leaders were present.

Edward C. Michaud, Scout Commissioner, conducted the session, which included a panel discussion as follows: Camping, Amos Kent; Finance, Benjamin Guernsey; Organization & Extension, George Broadhead; Advancement, Warren W. Oliver; Senior Scouting, Richard Peirce; Cub Scouting, George M. Shannon; Training, Charles O. Richter; Health and Safety, John C. Adams, assistant Scout Executive; and Scout Executive Robert E. Pettit.

Council President F. Brittain Kennedy complimented the leaders on their interest in Scouting and challenged them to do the job for the coming year. Commissioner Michaud reviewed the program for the coming year and outlined his staff organization, listing the responsibilities of the Scouting and Cub Scouting leaders.

The guest speaker was Samuel D. Bogan, Scout Executive of New Haven, Conn., author, naturalist, archeologist and professional Scouter of many years experience in the South and East. He talked on "From Boyhood to Manhood" and told many of his experiences with boys and men in Scouting. He emphasized the responsibility of a Leader of boys in Scouting, asserting: "A boy Leader must adjust his viewpoint to the years and experience of the boy he leads."

Dinner was served by Richard Thornton, member of the Executive Board, from Wellesley.

Preceding the Roundup was a meeting of the Commissioner's Staff. Those present were Commissioner Michaud; Viking District Commissioner Frank Dowcett, and Neighborhood Commissioners Payson LeBaron and Walter Tower; Quinobequin District Commissioner W. W. Bullen, and Neighborhood Commissioners Stuart Baird, C. Gordon Peterson and Thomas Kenney. Squanto District Commissioner Walter Chase, Sachem District Commissioner Edward E. Cohen, and Neighborhood Commissioner James Blackall and J. M. Williams.

The duties of the Commissioners staff were outlined and assignments were made for service to all Troops, Packs, and Senior Units.

dawn, and a famous entertainer in the New York theatrical belt before Uncle Sam decided he'd do better overseas, heard about Danny, addressed an anonymous letter "to whom it may concern," at Fenway Park, mentioned Danny's loyalty, plus his physical condition and, as a result, Danny, the happiest kid in town, has been watching the games from a reserved seat in the grandstand.

"FOR MAN OR BEAST..." Returning from the Cape the other night, a sign outside the Indian River Inn, Manomet, advertising "Food for Man or Beast," recalled a midnight here, when several of the grinning apes with whom this department associates, advised a wandering inebriate that the Waldorf Cafeteria did the same. Thanking them for their kind information, he entered through the swinging doors, promptly causing a great uproar, which, as we remember, may have been due to the fact that the gentleman was riding a horse at the time.

A gentleman rider from the wilds of Brighton, he loved to canter over Newton's hills in the wee small hours. He sang as he rode, too, and although not always in the proper key, he did have plenty of volume. Those of us who roamed the city in the night-time, knew him well. Many's the time we'd watch him take a long pull from his jug-like flask of pep-u-ppo and then, after about five minutes or so, see him shudder from stem to stern as he fought to keep his seat in the saddle. "Twas the pep-u-ppo, known to the gentry as the 'Bombay Bombshell,' that did it," he said. Timed, as were the aerial bombs, in the recent war, five minutes were allowed for settling purposes, then WHAM, it exploded!

He'd apparently weathered several 'explosions' previous to his Waldorf debut and the horse, eating apples from the counter, must have ordered for himself, for his master, due to the heat, perhaps, was wilting rapidly as the repentant jokesters led them outside just before the arrival of the low.

HORRORS... Bob Fitzgerald, who drives a night taxi cab in Newton Corner now, after four years in the South Pacific, seldom talks about the war or his experiences overseas, but when he does tell a yarn, it's usually worth hearing. The other early a.m. watching the sun coming up over the heights, near Boston College, Bob, in his quiet way, told of a discussion he'd listened in on, one night in the jungle. It concerned life, death and the hereafter. A few of the G.I.'s believed that death ended everything. The majority, however, believed that a good life on earth was rewarded with life everlasting in Heaven. A New Yorker, he said, a gent with a loud voice, neld out for reincarnation. "There was no doubt about it," he stated flatly, according to Bob. "You might as well do what you darn well please here, for you were coming back again anyway."

Death was a constant companion over there, Fitzgerald continued, and the subject was a delicate one. Everybody, except the reincarnation gent, wished it hadn't been brought up at all. They couldn't shut him up. Full of his subject, he went on and on, until a former Wisconsin farmer interrupted: "I can tell you a story about reincarnation, Bub," he said, "if you'll just set quiet a minute."

The New Yorker agreed to be quiet... "Well, I knew a man and his wife who believed in reincarnation," began the former farmer. "He died before she did, and about a year after his death she heard him calling to her one night. 'Nelson,' she moaned, 'where, ahem, are you?'"

"I'm in a lovely place," he answered, "and there's a cow across the way that has the most beautiful eyes you ever saw..."

"Are you well?" she inquired.

"Of course I'm well," he replied, "let me tell you about the cow though. She's all brown and has the loveliest skin..."

"Pshaw!" the angry widow scolded. "I want to know how I can go to you and all you talk about is a darn cow!"

"Hummm," muttered the dead husband. "I almost forgot to tell you. I am now a bull in Montana!"

Everybody grinned happily, according to Bob. That stopped the New Yorker.

UNCLE WILLIE... Uncle Willie took a package down to the post office the other day, so's to get it in the Scotland mail. The clerk, after weighing it, told Uncle Willie that it was too heavy. "You'll have to put another stamp on it," he said.

"What!" moaned Uncle Willie, "and make it even heavier!"

Men's Club of Newton Highlands

The Executive Committee of the Newton Highlands Men's Club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of the civic chairman, Lawrence L. Witter, 21 Sagamore Road. President Earl M. Dushuttle was in charge and led in the consideration and discussion of numerous items concerning the welfare and progress of the Club and especially prospective events planned by the Club for the ensuing season.

The membership of the Club numbers well over 200 and the matter of planning adequately for the required number of dinners for each monthly event has always presented a considerable problem. Notice cards are mailed to the members well in advance and they are requested to mark the cards "Yes" or "No" and return them promptly. To date the return has been substantially less than one hundred per cent and steps are being taken to impress on the delinquent members the great importance of this return in the planning of the dinner. Other matters discussed relate to plans for interesting Club events yet somewhat incomplete but which will be announced at an early date when plans are a bit more crystallized.

The Club bowling started last Monday evening and it is understood that the change to the Needham alleys is working out quite satisfactory.

Auburndale Review Club

Fifty members and guests gathered in the Congregational Chapel Tuesday for the first meeting of the Auburndale Review Club.

The President, Mrs. Edmund J. Wilson, welcomed the guests and invited them to remain to the business meeting and join the members at luncheon.

Mrs. John Williams reviewed the book "The Prologue of New England" by Henry E. Howes. Through the centuries men have sailed the seas, and the dramatic discoveries of Columbus and John Cabot are likely to obscure our minds to the gradual emergence of America from the mists of the Atlantic. Mr. Howes tells the story taken from the diary of Capt. John Smith, Governor of Virginia, who though he spent but eleven weeks in New England, was so impressed with its possibilities that he gave the rest of his life to exploiting its colonization. His was the greatest single achievement in the founding of New England.

The two films shown, through the channels of the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R., were enthusiastically received. Against a background of early settlements and craftsmanship, struggles and privations the industries aided by science and expert engineering precision emerges a modern New England, equal, if not surpassing any other, section of our country in

St. Philip Neri Holy Name Society

The opening meeting of the Holy Name Society of the St. Philip Neri parish in Waban was held Sunday evening, October 6, with sixty men in attendance.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Eric F. MacKenzie was the principal speaker, and his subject was "The Matrimonial Court of the Archdiocese of Boston."

Plans were announced for a Communion Breakfast to be held at the Hotel Beaconsfield on Sunday, November third.

The officers of the Society for the current year include: William H. Wragg, President; Florin J. Hailer, Vice President; Bartholomew J. Gorman, Secretary; Aloysius S. Pink, Treasurer; and Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, Director.

"This Is New England." Historic landmarks, the beauties of shore and countryside, and mountains come to life in the thrilling, romantic film, "New England — Yesterday and Today."

Mrs. James Patterson brought the region of Kennebec to us in a very familiar way as she told of the men and women associated with its history. Maine has been and could be again, a leader in ship-building and other industries. She has natural wealth and unexhausted beauty.

At luncheon members responded to the roll call with interesting and amusing highlights of the summer.

OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

We're not suggesting that you pitch a teepee on our doorstep. But we know how much you, like so many other car owners, want B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns on your car, and we know why. Because you have heard that:

1. The new, better synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich makes Silvertowns run cooler, wear longer than prewar tires.
2. The 35% stronger tire body is made possible by a new, stronger cord, more cords per inch in the top ply, and an extra shock-absorbing breaker strip.
3. The new wider, flatter "road level" tread puts more rubber on the road to share the wear and provide quicker stops, better traction, and more safety on the turns.
4. More than 2,000 tests and 17,000,000 miles of the toughest kind of actual road service developed that the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown outwears prewar natural rubber tires.

OUR TOWN AFTER MIDNIGHT

By PAUL CONSIDINE

According to the police down in the Newton Corner end of town, several attempts have been made to gain entry to various stores, during the wee small hours. Locks have been found partly pried open and other evidences of attempted breaks on the doors and rear windows of the business establishments there, over a three-week period, have been keeping the guardians of the peace in that area pretty much on the alert.

One recent morning, at 2:45 a.m., Patrolman Francis W. Turner, who'd been making a steady round of inspection in the rear of the Corner's buildings, discovered an upper panel broken on a rear door of the Newton Corner Variety Store at 246 Washington street. The door had been intact 30 minutes before, so Turner, sensing that prowlers were inside, turned the door knob quietly, slowly forcing the door open an inch at a time.

COMPLETE DARKNESS . . .
The interior was in complete darkness as Turner, gun in hand, and calling upon the intruders to surrender, entered the store. "The silence was deafening," he said, as utterly unable to see, he took a chance and snapped on his flashlight. Nothing happened and the silence was unbroken, Turner added, until tip-toeing around the store, his flashlight's beam picked out a pair of legs huddled under a counter—the legs of a 14-year-old boy who quickly surrendered. In the meantime, the boy's companion, another 14-year-old, escaped.

Hoping to escape a severe penalty, the captured youth gave Turner the name and address of his companion, who was captured in Brighton where both boys lived, later on the same morning.

DR. THOMAS MORTON GALLAGHER

By PAUL CONSIDINE

With Dr. Kurt H. Thoma, of Newton, presiding, 1000 dentists from every section of the United States gathered at the Centenary Celebration Dinner, at the Hotel Statler, Tuesday evening, to pay tribute to the dentist, Dr. Wm. Thomas Green Morton, who 100 years ago this week, October 16, 1846, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, tipped the surgeon's knife with mercy, when he first administered ether to a patient about to undergo an operation.

The first operating room in which Dr. Morton introduced the use of ether is intact today, at the Massachusetts General Hospital. On October 16, 1846, he gave ether to Gilbert Abbott, a printer, there, permitting the removal of a tumor without pain. At that time, Dr. Morton administered the anesthetic, turned to Dr. John C. Warren, senior surgeon at the hospital, and said: "Dr. Warren, the patient is yours."

There was a dead silence as Dr. Warren made his first incision. The patient made no sign.

Community Chorus

The Community Chorus of the City of Newton seems to be off with a flying start, that is if one can judge from the fine music which came from the members during their third rehearsal last Tuesday evening at the Technical High School.

Over 130 members attended and gave forth their energy and enthusiasm at the nod of Director Ralph Schoonmaker until at times it seemed the entire hall was responding to the cadence.

It was first thought that perhaps 100 voices would be the probable membership but each rehearsal brings out new members until the number is now close to 150 and seems well towards reaching the 200 mark. In fact 225 complete sets of the musical score have been purchased so if you or any of your friends possess singing voices come to the next rehearsal and take part in this new and wonderful community project. The joy of singing and the companionship of others of the same mind is in itself enough to justify your joining, and too, think of the pleasure you will be giving your fellow citizens when the concerts take place.

If the progress made so far is any indication then Newton can look forward to some very interesting and pleasing entertainment in the years to come as Community Singing is one of the finest communitywide projects that can be undertaken. These members are pioneers of an idea in the Newtons and may they well look forward to the time when they can say "Yes—I am a charter member of that Chorus and I am happy of the opportunity accorded me to sing for the joy of singing to my fellow citizens." This is another reason why we are proud of being citizens of Newton.

Handicapped People Have High Praise For Police

People who are lame, or otherwise handicapped, dread a fall. It may not be the possible results of such an experience that makes them apprehensive. Often it is the clumsiness of the well-intentioned stranger who tries to assist them to their feet. Offers of help may mean injuries to those who want to aid but who overdo and strain themselves. Women particularly should not attempt heavy lifting.

A most resourceful professional nurse described the value of trained assistance in accident cases — the police. "Don't attempt to do the impossible," she said. "Send for the Newton officers. They know what to do." She then paid the officers this tribute:

"I don't know if the same is true in all cities but I know the Newton police have a fine system. Only the other day an invalid fell out of bed while he was attempting to reach for something on the floor. It was a private case and there were only two women in the house. For them to attempt to lift a heavy man would have been a terrible mistake in my opinion. No one knows what might have happened.

"The head nurse knew what to do. She telephoned Police Headquarters, explained the situation and was assured of police help. In seven minutes four officers arrived. Two minutes later two came in another car but were not needed.

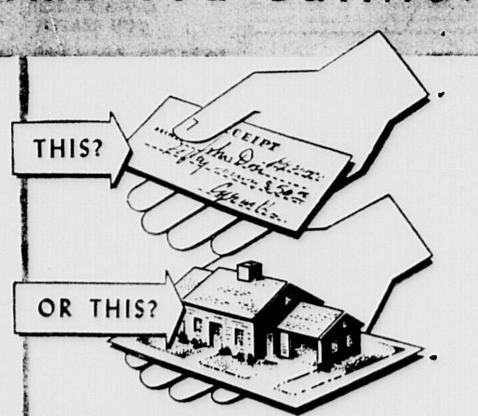

"One officer took one of the patient's arms and the second, the other. A third lifted his feet as he brought them together. The fourth officer held a chair at the patient's back. In a single united movement they had him up and on his feet, safe and secure.

"The police took only six minutes to accomplish the whole thing, including their departure. Think what it means, especially when there are no men at home to assist. Elderly people can see it clearly.

"There are so many combinations of unfortunate circumstances that can arise from a bad fall that one should always remember the assistance of the police is invaluable."

Meat Decontrolled

Apparently giving in to the increasingly frantic pleas of Democratic Congressmen and other important leaders of the Democratic party, President Truman has freed meat from OPA control. This, of course, does not mean that any of us are going to have any meat on the table for a number of weeks. If we do, the price will be somewhat high and well beyond the means of the great mass of the American people.

At this point, it may be of interest to quote one of the famous Roosevelt sons, Elliott Roosevelt. Said he, "If my father were alive, this would never have happened." According to the Boston Post, Elliott "stated that the late President would have exerted a leadership that would have maintained OPA price controls, at the same time assuring plenty for all in a nation producing plenty of the good things of life." Continuing, Elliott said, "You know and I know that it is not just meat that is involved. It is our whole life, our liberty, our freedom. It is bread, sugar, milk, eggs; everything that makes a man free is at stake." And, again, "It means the end of what we have been fighting for and return to the things that produce wars."

Well, just what does this pronouncement mean in terms of the future relationship between President Truman and the very active and politically-minded sons of our late, distinguished President? Time alone will tell.

Impartial observers will wonder just why Mr. Truman waited until three short weeks before the November election before reversing himself. Partial Republicans, of course, have already charged that the speech was, in essence, political. Chairman Reece of the G. O. P. National Committee wants the radio stations to give his party the same amount of time which Mr. Truman consumed on Monday night. It remains to be seen how this demand will be handled.

As for your columnist, he remembers that practically the only time in recent months when meat could be obtained, except through the black market, was during that rather brief period when the lid was lifted early this summer. Prices went up for a time, but came down substantially before very long. It is not likely that the same thing will happen now? And if it does, will not the critics of OPA be justified in their persistent fight?

State Campaign

I stated last week that I would make some detailed comments about the various state-wide contests, with special reference to the Lodge-Walsh contest. In view of the President's drastic action on the meat situation, it might be well to defer that comment until next week, by which time we shall have had an opportunity to judge the effect of the sensational meat speech. However, there are a few things I shall say right now.

First of all, I am wondering what will be the effect of a form letter I have just received from Henry Cabot Lodge. It went out under first class mail and had enclosed with it two campaign cards and two auto stickers. I have studied both the full-page letter and the two cards, which contain a great deal of statistical information. Nowhere do I find the word Republican printed. Why? I am positive that Lodge is a Republican and I have innocently assumed that we were engaged in a contest between the candidates of the Republican and the Democratic parties. Can it be that Lodge is so sure of receiving the votes of every single Republican in this state that he is deliberately soft-pedaling his party affiliation in order to win a large number of Democratic and independent voters? That may be smart politics but I, for one, do not like it a bit. It is only fair to remind my readers, however, that Senator Walsh himself, during a few of his campaigns, has stressed the fact that he was "the People's Candidate" and the chief hope of the great mass of independent voters. If Walsh can do this, I suppose that Lodge can, too.

Despite the above, my personal choice is definitely Henry Cabot Lodge for the U. S. Senate. Mr. Walsh is far too old and is not sufficiently in tune with the times. And that's that.

As for the Governorship, it is obvious that Bob Bradford has been closing up the original gap between him and Governor Tobin. The latter, however, is still "tall, dark and handsome," which seems to mean a good deal to a certain segment of the voters hereabouts. The fact that Bradford is very likely more efficient, more opposed to waste and extravagance and more likely to make creditable appointments to important positions, should be constantly stressed from how on by his growing army of friends and admirers. From a betting standpoint, it seems to me that it is either an even bet at the moment or, possibly, a ten to nine bet on Tobin.

Arthur Coolidge has his work cut out for him against Paul A. Dever, even tho' the latter has been in the Navy so long (nearly four years), that quite a few voters have forgotten about him. Barnes is still a good bet for Attorney General and Curtis and Wood will need a lot of four-leaf clovers to defeat the gentleman named Hurley and Buckley respectively.

Among the many improvements added to the Cottage Hospital by the new wing, is the number of private rooms, where patients can be cared for by their own physician, and with greater comfort than at their own homes.

The quarterly report of the chief of the fire department was read. There had been 10 calls between July 1 and Oct. 1, the fires causing a loss of $4500 on buildings and $1500 on contents, an unusual record of exemption from fires.

C. B. Magee and others asked for police signal box at Waban, and hoped it would be granted, as now the police have to tie men's hands around a telegraph pole and hunt for a private telephone, when they want the patrol wagon.

On motion of Alderman Fenno petitions for street lights were granted as follows: incandescent light at corner of Boylston and Floral streets; are light at Water-town street near Cheesecake brook; two incandescents on Middlesex road; are light at corner of Watertown and Nevada streets; and at corner Walnut and Centre streets; incandescent on South street, on Hammond street at ledge on Grant avenue near Grey cliff road, and at corner of Waltham and Webster streets; street lights on Highland street and Valentine street.

The handsome bowling alleys recently opened in the new Nonantum building, have attracted large crowds of patrons and the rooms have been filled with lovers of the sport each afternoon and evening. So far some excellent records have been made. Mr. James Morgan and Mr. Henry Bester having each rolled up a score of 104 on candle pins, and Mr. Frank Thomas 185 with the large pins. Three of the alleys have been completed and the fourth will be in use some time next week. Expert players say that the alleys are in splendid condition and may be considered among the best in the state.

The hearing on the seizing of the bank lot at City Hall, this evening, will probably be a very lively one, as it is reported that all the property owners on the square, except Messrs. Taylor & Whitman, will bitterly oppose the taking of the land under the betterment act. The committee appointed to see how much the citizens will contribute will also make their report, and the rest of the city is looking for this with great interest.

Work on the new Masonic Temple is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the walls and roof will be completed before the winter weather.

Committee for World Federation To Hold Meeting

The second, and last meeting, prior to election of the Newton Committee for world Federation will be held at 8:00 P. M. on Thursday, October 24 at the Parish House, Trinity Church, Newton Centre. At that time sub-committee chairmen will report on the progress of their work to date and make plans for the final two weeks of the campaign. It is urgent that the entire committee be present.

Col. Alexander Standish, Chairman, of 183 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, stresses the importance of the Massachusetts vote. Spokesmen for Canada and Australia as well as a commentator of renown on a national network have pointed to the vote here as a most significant indication of American public opinion.

Stanbrough Fernald, chairman of the villages committee, Mr. Arthur G. Robinson, chairman of the church committee, Mr. William A. Medlicott, Jr., chairman of the veterans committee and Dr. Robert Clyde Yarrow, chairman of the speakers bureau, will make reports.

Temporary relief for the problem of expansion

That's the story in the telephone business the next few months

We're now well under way with a huge construction program, which will eventually bring New England the quantity and quality of telephone service that it wants.

This is a big job—a long term job—calling for the expenditure of $200,000,000 on new telephones, plant, switchboards and dial equipment in the next five years.

But for now, with material shortages delaying our long term plans, we're adopting, wherever practical, various temporary measures to enable us to meet a growing demand with the equipment now available.

Most central offices are filled to capacity. That is why, in some communities, service is not always as good as either you, or we, would like it. It is also why, at present, we are unable to provide service for additional customers in many of our exchanges.

But thousands of telephone men are now at work on the hundreds of projects called for by New England's expanding needs. Community by community, as new equipment is manufactured and installed, New England will be getting more telephones and better service.

Dr. Barry, Speaker in Third of "We the Parents" Series

"Parents must try to take a long-range view of the health of their children, remembering that some problems arise in the natural course of development and others are specific problems of the moment," said Dr. Harold C. Stuart speaking Monday evening, October 14, on "Health and Physical Fitness" at the second in the series of four Monday evening lectures for parents in the Newton High School auditorium. Dr. Stuart, Professor of Pediatrics at the Harvard School of Public Health, was a member of the Rockefeller Health Commission in Europe from 1940 to 1941, with the American Red Cross and was interned by the Germans from 1942 to 1944. Upon his return to this country he served as consultant on nutrition to the Surgeon General of the United States.

Introduced by Dr. Chester M. Alter, Dean of the Graduate School, Boston University, Dr. Stuart shared the platform with a panel of three Newton experts on health and physical education.

Dr. E. M. Morris, Director of the Board of Health, Mr. Frank Simmons and Miss Helen Braebogil of the Newton Department of Physical Education.

"Healthy parents who have themselves developed good health habits provide the homes most likely to produce healthy children," Dr. Stuart stated. "Schools equipped with healthy teachers must provide not only adequate health protection but also facilities for promoting physical health and fitness. Newton enjoys the reputation of having a splendid health program throughout the schools."

Discussing some specific aspects of child development, Dr. Stuart touched briefly upon variations in size, pointing out that a very small child may be following a definite pattern of development or may be a slow maturing individual. The problem of obesity in adolescence, Dr. Stuart pointed out, may be a rather serious one for the young person fails to exercise and develop his muscular strength he may lose the opportunity for this development afforded by this period of rapid growth. Good nutrition is especially important during the rapid growth when the organisms must have abundant proteins and calories. Newton is fortunate in another respect in that it has a community nutrition service sponsored by its Health Department, the Community Chest, and the Red Cross. Dr. Stuart called attention to the printed materials that were available in the lobby. The allergies of childhood, while great nuisances, tend to disappear after the individual develops, Dr. Stuart said.

Dr. Morris, Mr. Simmons, and Miss Braebogil responded to questions from the audience. Dr. Herbert Barry, Jr., will be the third speaker in the series, "We the Parents," sponsored by the Newton Community Council and the Newton Council of Parent-Teachers' Associations. Dr. Barry is on the staff of the Massachusetts General Hospital, teaches at Harvard Medical School, is the staff psychiatrist at the Perkins Institute for the Blind, and is medical consultant for the Veterans Guidance Center at Harvard University.

Parents do everything to give their children good health, but they must broaden their concept to include good mental health as well. Children never thrive because their parents had some educational "system," but because it is something in the spirit and atmosphere of the home which causes them to thrive. Dr. Barry will discuss the kinds of homes that produce good mental health, the significance of pugnacity, shyness, lying, lack of manners, and over-sensitivity. The best help probably that can be offered parents in bringing up their children is health in their own personal emotional development. Dr. Barry will speak about the personal temperaments of children and how parents can help overcome nervousness, moodiness, lack of confidence, fears, and day-dreaming in their children.

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R.

A large gathering of members and guests attended the first Meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter of the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls on the afternoon of October 14th.

The Regent, Mrs. Frank S. Larkin, called the meeting to order at 2 P. M. A Report of the 55th Continental Congress held in Atlantic City in May was given by the Regent. Also a Report was given by Mrs. George F. Howland of the State Meeting held at Swampscott on October third and fourth. The new Year Book emphasizing the Fiftieth Anniversary was distributed. Three new members were welcomed and others are to be admitted soon. October twenty-sixth is the date set for the coming Rummage Sale. November eighteenth will be the date of the next Chapter meeting at which time a Christmas Sale will be held and a luncheon served under the able supervision of Mrs. Edgar W. Allen.

The high light of the afternoon was the interesting and instructive talk given by Mrs. Susan Higginson Nash of Boston, on "Restoration of Old Houses from Williamsburg to Boston." Mrs. Nash told much of the rebuilding of Williamsburg she having been a Consultant in this work. She also told of assisting in other such projects in New England. She spoke in admiration of the Lucy Jackson Chapter House as one of the fine examples of old-time building. Following the program refreshments were served by a committee under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Harold C. Burnham and Mrs. James C. Patterson. The pourers were Mrs. George F. Howland and Mrs. Harold W. Knowlton.

Joseph E. Perry Elected Trustee of Boston University

At the Boston University Trust meeting in the afternoon preceding dinner, two new members were elected to the Board, five trustees whose terms expired, were re-elected for a five-year term and the first appointment was made to the newly-created faculty post of Dean of Admissions and Examinations for the University's six undergraduate colleges.

The two new trustees are Joseph E. Perry, 18 Holt street, Belmont, president of the Newton Savings Bank, and William B. Snow, Jr., 290 Warren street, Brookline, president of the Suffolk Savings Bank. Mr. Perry was former Bank Commissioner of Massachusetts in 1940-41, former president of the Y.M.C.A. for Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and past Grand Master for the Masons of Massachusetts.

Re-nominated trustees are: Vincent P. Clarke, Winchester; Victor A. Friend, Melrose; Russell S. Hadlock, Milton; Piny Jewell, Medford; Daniel T. O'Connell, Newton.

Kenneth L. Heaton, of Chicago, new serving in the Office of the Secretary of War as Chief of the Research Section, Civilian Personnel and Training Division, was named to the post of Dean of Admissions and Examinations. During the first two years of the war, and before joining the staff of the Secretary of War, Doctor Heaton held the position of Chief of Training in the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense. During this period 5 1/2 million citizens were involved in the nationwide program of civilian defense training. Prior to the war, Doctor Heaton served for many years as Director of the Bureau of Educational Research of the Michigan State Board of Education.

Caravan Visits Newton Villages

Favored by perfect October weather, the Newton Red Cross Conservation Caravan appeared as scheduled on October 3 and 4 in eight of Newton's villages. The two colorful vehicles, consisting of a Red Cross truck and beach wagon, took their first stand in Nonantum. Passersby were cordially urged to enter the truck to inspect the displays of meals of foreign countries as contrasted with a well-balanced American meal based on present food conditions, and also a sample lunch for a working man. The Chinese meal, prepared by Mrs. Charles Haney, consisted of a bowl of rice and a soup made from weeds. The typical Greek dinner, arranged by Mrs. Alden Thresher, contained black bread, potato and squash. Mrs. Virginia Sargent of the Newton Nutrition Center showed a Polish meal of potato, carrots, beets and dark bread. These meager repasts pointed up the inadequacy of the foods of large numbers of the world population. The simple American dinner of tomato juice, beans and frankfurts, cole slaw, piccalilli and apple sauce seemed bountiful in comparison. It was a demonstration that Americans can enjoy a balanced diet and at the same time save important food items for the hungry peoples of the world.

The tempting lunch for a working man was prepared by Mrs. John Heibek and consisted of a leg of chicken, corn muffin, potato salad, a bottle of milk and an orange.

Large posters on the outside of the truck quoted a message from Pres. Truman urging people to eat less wheat, fat and oils, to balance your diet with plentiful foods, to waste no foods. Other signs pointed out that 5,000,000 people are hungry and "They look to you for help."

Uniformed Red Cross workers who rode in the beach wagon gave out samples of a delicious potato salad served in paper cups. They also distributed helpful sheets of recipes and hints on saving fats and oils and serving better breakfasts. Another sheet advertised cooking classes available to housewives. Groups may sign up for six free lessons.

Moving on from Nonantum, the Caravan proceeded to Newton. Parking on Walnut street, Newtonville as students from the high school went by, much interest in the displays was shown as many young people entered the truck. West Newton, Auburndale, Waban, Newton Highlands and Newton Center were covered in later visits.

The Newton Police Department offered free cooperation in arranging for the parking.

The general chairman of the Caravan was Mrs. John Heibek, chairman of Nutrition for the local Chapter. Assisting her were Mrs. Ernest McClure, chairman of Canteen and Mrs. George Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Haney, Mrs. William Young, Mrs. Alden Thresher, Mrs. Donald Baker, Mrs. John Kobrock, Mrs. Forrest Lange, Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mrs. Donald Gibbs and Mrs. James Lewis. Driving the vehicles were Mrs. Stuart Koster, Mrs. Langdon Parsons, Mrs. R. M. P. Kennard of the Motor Corps, and Mrs. Billings Harris and Mrs. Edward Eden.

The bulbs we sell you are all top size and top quality, and should not be confused with smaller bulbs of inferior quality which are being sold at lower prices.

HYACINTHS, TULIPS, DAFFODILS, etc. should be planted soon

You can enjoy flowers from early March through May with imported Holland Bulbs. The crocus blooms first early in March, hyacinths and the narcissus family follows a few weeks later. Then early tulips burst into color while daffodils and hyacinths are still in bloom. Last come the tall, late "May-flowering" tulips -- Darwin, Breeder, Cottage, Parrot and other varieties.

Mass. DeMolay Holds Conclave

On October 5-6 Newton DeMolay was host to 240 delegates and advisers from 34 chapters throughout the state for the eighteenth Annual DeMolay State Conclave. Dad George Bestick of Worcester the Active member of the Grand Council for Massachusetts was in charge of the entire meeting.

On Saturday morning after registration a business session was held followed by a luncheon in the Masonic Hall. During the afternoon the delegates attended the Newton-Melrose football game while the Advisors held their meeting. At 5:00 P. M. the business session was reconvened and State Officers were elected for the ensuing year. Those elected to office were: State Master Councilor, Frank Russell, Jr. of Worcester; State Senior Councilor, Allen Bryson of Everett; State Junior Councilor, James Hamilton of Weymouth; Senior Deacon, Milton Jefferson; Junior Deacon, George Foundas; Senior Steward, Henry Steeger; Junior Steward, Burton Potter; Chaplain, James Price; Sentinel, Carl Mesnig.

The Annual Banquet held in the evening was attended by a number of distinguished guests including Dad Bestick, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, County Commissioner and Chairman of Newton Chapter's Advisory Council; Frank M. Grant, City Clerk representing Mayor Paul M. Goddard; Frank M. Simmons, Physical Education Director of the city and a former advisor of Newton Chapter; J. Harold Libbey from Gethsemane Community; Richard Hill from Newton Royal Arch Chapter; Frank Meakin, Worshipful Master of Norumbeg Lodge and Rev. Randolph Merrill of the Central Congregational Church. Each of these guests brought greetings from his organization and congratulated the Order of DeMolay on its fine work and growth during the past year.

Newly elected state officers were installed during an impressive ceremony conducted by a suite of officers from Newton Chapter: Installing Officer, Cushman Gray; I. S. C., George Markin; I. J. C., Harlan Tewksbury, I. S. D., Robert Patterson; I. Mar, Richard Ellis; and I. Chaplain, Edgar Randall. After this ceremony an entertainment followed in Temple Hall.

On Sunday morning the delegates and advisers attended church service at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville where they were warmly greeted by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill and the members of the congregation. Following the service the conclave was adjourned to meet next year at a location not yet announced.

nor moved a muscle. The tumor removed and the operation completed, Dr. Warren turned to the others saying with great emphasis:

"Gentlemen, this is no humbug."

Boston surgeons performed other operations under ether soon afterward and all were successful. The fame of the new marvel spread rapidly. In a short time the whole civilized world heard the amazing story that pain in surgery had been conquered.

Couldn't Operate Without Ether
Today, according to Medical Examiner Dr. Thomas Morton Gallagher, of Newton, few hospitals could operate without the use of ether. Dr. Morton, a dentist, had two years of Harvard Medical School behind him when, with Dr. Gallagher's father, he began his experiments with ether. Living on a farm in Wellesley, Dr. Morton and Thomas Gallagher, Sr., made extensive experiments with the anesthetic over a period of two years, before Dr. Morton first administered ether to Gilbert Abbott, at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Chuckling, Dr. Gallagher told this reporter that they tried the "stuff" on pretty nearly every living thing on the farm—and then began trying it on one another. Thomas Gallagher, Sr., etherizing Dr. Morton for the first time, carried him to the open air after he became unconscious, splashed water on his face, held smelling salts to his nose and by means of artificial respiration revived him. There is no better method of reviving an etherized person today, Dr. Gallagher declared.

The danger they feared most, continued Dr. Gallagher, was that someone might die, due to an overdose of ether during the experiments on the farm. This slowed them down a little, but Dr. Morton was a first class etherizer when, after two years of experimentation, he appeared at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

As do all great pioneers, Dr. Morton met opposition—especially by the clergy who objected to the use of ether "because it violated the will of God." Other claimants, Dr. Gallagher said, particularly a Dr. Jackson, claimed the honor of the ether discovery. However, a trial by a jury of doctors and other scientists tried men recognized Dr. Morton as the real discoverer of surgical anesthesia.

Close Friend of Gallagher Family
A close friend of the Gallagher family, Dr. Morton expressed the wish that one of the Gallagher boys be named after him and then study medicine. Thomas Gallagher, Sr., thought well of the doctor's wishful wish, so that Thomas Morton Gallagher, Jr., attending Harvard Medical school many years ago decided that he'd settle here and treat the ailing in our town. Now seventy odd years young, Medical Examiner Thomas Morton Gallagher, known from one end of this country to the other, and still treating the ailing in our town, is still carrying on, as per the wish of the famous Dr. Morton, who made ether available to the world's sufferers one hundred years ago, and still, as those of us who've grown up in his back yard, have known through the years, forgets to send his bill for services to a majority of his patients.

wholesome, most livable community that we in Newton and the people of Greater Boston can achieve through our voluntary endeavors.

"The money goal for Greater Boston was established by the Fund Board of Directors and Budget Committee to meet their estimate of minimum needs for the 330 Red Feather services who receive full or partial support from the yearly subscriptions of the citizens in this great area. The Newton goal was accepted by our local Campaign Committee."

"There is a definite challenge to the citizens of Newton to do their share to provide essential needs for the coming year," further stated Mr. Hoyt. "With losses due to death and removal and with certain revenues that came to the Fund last year not available this year, a total increase in subscription of 5% is necessary. I am firmly convinced that our goal in Newton can and will be met."

Although the house-to-house solicitation will not start until November 8th, the Advance Gifts Division is already at work and the Manufacturing, Mercantile, and Municipal Divisions will start their solicitation beginning October 21st. These divisions expect to make reports of their results at the Opening Dinner to give stimulus to the house-to-house solicitation. The Chairman of each of these divisions is trying to get complete coverage of his calls prior to that time so that he can report 100% coverage.

Meetings in the next few days are scheduled by the Manufacturing Division, the Men's Mercantile Division, and the Municipal Division. Theodore R. Lockwood, Chairman of the Manufacturing Division, is having a luncheon for his committee Friday, October 18th, at Brae Burn Country Club. Orville O. Clapper, Chairman of the Men's Section of the Mercantile Division, is having a meeting of his chairmen and members of the Special Accounts committee at the Chest office on Tuesday, October 22d. Carl C. Peterson, Chairman of the Schools Section of the Municipal Division, is presiding at a meeting of the School Department workers at the Cladin School, Newtonville, Wednesday, October 23d, at three o'clock, and Sydney B. Holden, Chairman, and Chief John J. Keating, Assistant Chairman, have called a meeting of City Department heads at City Hall at four o'clock that same day. At these meetings Campaign Chairman Franklin K. Hoyt will discuss the essential facts concerning the coming campaign.

Total enrollment of workers has reached 2125, which is 89% of the total quota which has been set. With all leaders working industriously to complete their lists, it is expected that in another week 100% of enrollment will be announced.

Captains of the 160 teams in the Residential Division were announced in last week's paper. The workers who will assist them in five of the thirteen villages are listed in this issue. Workers in the other eight villages will be announced in forthcoming issues of the GRAPHIC. Residential workers in Auburndale include:

Herter—

Claremont street, Newton.

Congressman Herter who was introduced by Wilfred Chagnon spoke on National affairs that are touching the every day life of the average man and woman. He explained in detail the investigation that has been conducted by the Congressional Committee on the meat situation. He also went into the subject of lifting the price ceilings on certain items and showed why the country would be substantially better off for these decontrols.

Otis M. Whitney of Concord, member of the Governor's Council from the 3rd councillor district stressed the needs for voting and outlined the responsibility that is placed on a member of the Governor's Council. Mr. Whitney is a candidate for Re-election.

Richard H. Lee of Newton who is the candidate for the State Senate in the Middlesex and Suffolk District, composed of Newton, Brighton and Ward 5 of Cambridge also spoke, stressing the need of leadership in government and explained from his war experiences how these qualities were shown and developed.

Refreshments were served and every one received the opportunity to meet the Congressmen. It was the conclusion of those present that Congressman Herter was an exceptional student of Government and had a clear picture of the problems that are confronting this State and nation in these troubled times.

Alert Halloween Comms. Perfecting Sparkling Programs

According to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Chairman of the Program Committee, details for practically all Halloween parties are approaching the clearing-up stage—while a number of committees have actually completed their work, leaving only the usual crop of last-minute questions to be settled as they come up. Reports from committees are being received by Mrs. Hovgaard every day. Among them are the following:

Mr. William M. Rauha, Building Chairman of the Normandie Room party for the Auburndale 7th, 8th and 9th grades, states that about 100 children are expected and that features will include a costume march, costume prize awards, an exceptional entertainer, and music, dancing, games and refreshments to keep the young people busy every minute. Mr. Rauha says, further, that "the Normandie Room facilities are excellent and the Park management has been most co-operative and helpful in our endeavor to put over a 'bang-up' party. The entertainer is a well-known, featured performer in Metropolitan Boston and has the happy faculty of getting audience participation in the fun. His performance—and, by the way, we're keeping his identity secret—should highlight what promises to be a good party."

The committee arranging this joyous affair includes these: Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ufford, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. Huston Cockrill, Mrs. Hollis Wynan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Mulock and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Rauha.

All events have been settled for the Emerson School gathering, in Newton Upper Falls, announces Mr. Joseph H. Randall, Building Chairman. More than 450 will attend—including all grades from kindergarten through Senior High. This party—one of the big ones—will start with a parade at 6:30, proceed to movies at 7:00, a puppet show at 8:00 and dancing and games will get under way by 8:45. There will be a clever fortune teller and a Ghost Walk that will make some of the more jittery folks walk pretty fast. An orchestra has been engaged and ample refreshments will be served. Mr. Randall refuses to reveal certain details, but hints that the Committee has several surprises up its sleeve.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Troutwine, Building Chairman of the Mason School, Newton Centre, celebration, report that all six grades will participate in one party and that over 450 children are expected to be on hand for an evening of well-planned fun. An outstanding feature will be a Chamber of Horrors that will surpass even the clever Chambers set up for this school in previous years. It is being designed for the upper three grades only—it being figured that these older children "can take it."

In addition, there will be movies, a rollicking magician and special room parties. And a band consisting of accordions, piano and drums will set the tempo for dancing. Mr. John Patterson is in charge of the Chamber of Horrors and Mrs. G. A. Drew is taking care of the refreshments.

Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska, in the order named, are the largest producers of oats in the United States.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

Several cases are on record where persons have been seriously burned in connection with banked fires in the ordinary furnace or stove. In other instances serious property damage has occurred, and in a number of cases people, sleeping in the house have died from the toxic effect of the gases liberated.

With a bed of hot coals in a furnace it is common practice to bank the fire at night, by placing a considerable amount of fresh coal on the fire, and by closing off the draft and the damper in the pipe.

The new coal, being acted upon by the hot coals below, generates gases, largely carbon monoxide, which, however, cannot burn because there is not sufficient air coming in. Even though the furnace door might be left open, thus providing air for combustion, there still will not be any burning of these gases if the blanket of new coal is too thick for the flame to come through it. Under these conditions the mixture of readily combustible carbon monoxide and air may completely fill the furnace or stove and even the chimney.

With this mixture of air and heated combustible gases, there is only needed a flame for an explosion or flash to take place. This flame comes eventually, due to the fire burning through the blanket of coal. Sometimes the ignition is so rapid as to produce explosive effects, blowing doors off or wrecking the stovepipe or flue. Under these conditions, flame may be discharged and wood-work ignited. Or large quantities of smoke and fumes may be liberated, which seeping through the house, may result in death to the occupants.

Furnace back drafts, seriously burning persons nearby, also occur when the furnace door is opened after the heated coals of a fire have been covered with fresh coal. As with all other preventative matters, knowledge of what happens and why is necessary if such explosions and flare-backs are to be prevented.

An abundance of unconsumed coal gas, an adequate supply of air to give an explosive mixture, and the presence of flame or sufficient heat to ignite it, are all essential to produce an explosion or flash. The cure is to prevent these conditions. To do so every user of coal for fuel should be trained in how to bank a fire.

First and most important, always leave a small spot of hot coals exposed. Thus any gases will be ignited before they accumulate in dangerous quantities. Second, cut off all intake of air from below the fire, and third, provide plenty of air above the fire.

The proper procedure in banking the ordinary house heating furnace is to pull the hot coals to the front of the fire box, letting them slant downward to the back of the furnace. Then to put on fresh coal, but leave a spot of hot coals, about the size of a man's hand, uncovered at the front. Open the ports in the firing door and close off all bottom drafts. The damper should not be entirely closed.

Even with these precautions, slight puffs may occasionally occur. If the smoke pipe is poorly installed, or badly corroded this may result in opening up the pipe sufficiently to allow smoke to fill the house and do considerable smoke damage, or possibly have a harmful effect on the occupants.

Poorly adjusted oil burners or the use of an oil which clogs the smoke passages in the furnace and in the chimney will also result in incomplete combustion, with possibilities of smoke being discharged through the doors or crevices. In addition to serious smoke damage there is a probability of a smoke explosion.

When cleaning out the ash pit of a furnace or stove never place the ashes into any type of a container that is made of a combustible material, it may become ignited by hot ashes, and in turn set fire to the building. Be safe and only use metal ash containers.

Needs and Fancies For Younger Set At Church Bazaar

They are a nuisance and a worry, these young folks of ours, but do we love them! When we see their fads, girls dressing like boys and the boys arrayed in garments out of this world, we even question their sanity. All the things they love will be offered for sale at the "Harvest Bazaar," sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, Newtonville Methodist Church, Newtonville, on Wednesday, November 6, at 10 a.m., with Mrs. Henry W. Webster general chairman.

The women have been working many months on hand made articles such as colorful blouses, kerchiefs, brilliantly hued shirts and socks and many other items to catch the fancy of our "teen-agers." Costume jewelry to gladden the heart of any girl will be awaiting the early shopper. Do your Christmas shopping at the "Bazaar"—there will be gifts to suit every person and purse. The date is Wednesday, November 6, at the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Hallowe'en Dance In Waban

A meeting of the newly-formed Waban Catholic Club was held on Wednesday evening, October 9. The following officers were elected: Arnold Grade, President; Fred Horn, Vice-president; Sally Lane, Secretary; and Marilyn Murphy, Treasurer. Plans were made for a Hallowe'en Dance on Friday October 25, at the St. Philip Neri Auditorium. The committee in charge includes Cornelia Dowd, Corinne Madden, Joan Guiney, Nancy Perry, Donald Hailer, James Grogan, Daniel Egan, Donald Hernburg, and Peter Messner.

DR. CRAIG EARL, more familiarly known as Professor Quiz, who originated his coast to coast broadcast from station WCOP Thursday night, entertained members of the Newton Rotary Club at their Monday luncheon at the Brasburn Country Club. The professor delighted his audience with variations of his quiz show and feats of magic, being performed above with the assistance of Frank Hackett, left, and Fred Heaney, right.

Rotary Club

Prof. Quiz, Craig Earl, M.D., in private life, radio's original quiz master, who was the guest of the Newton Rotary Club at the Brasburn Country Club on Monday, gave an entertaining and humorous talk using as his text the words of Josh Billings, "It is better not to know so much than to know so much that ain't so."

He told of the odd questions submitted for his radio show and of the strange answers given by the contestants. He also related stories of some of his most embarrassing moments on the air. Since he started the original quiz show 10 years ago he said that 506 quiz shows of varying longevity have been on the air.

After his entertaining and humorous talk he astounded the club members and visitors with a number of clever card tricks. There was not a dull moment with Professor Quiz at the helm.

T. H. Mahony To Speak on World Federation

Thomas H. Mahony, prominent Boston attorney, will speak on "World Federation" at 7:45 P.M. on Thursday, October 17 at the First Congregational Church in Newton Centre.

Mr. Mahony is co-chairman of the Massachusetts Committee for World Federation. Mr. Mahony believes that the people of Newton have a great opportunity and a grave responsibility. By their action we can hasten a permanent peace; by neglect we can drift toward destruction. All Newton voters are urged to go to the polls on Nov. 5, and vote "yes" for peace on the last question on their ballot. Strengthening the United Nations to make it a World Federal Government able to prevent war is the most important question ever to appear on a Newton ballot. It is a question that vitally affects our children's lives.

A "Yes" vote offers a hope of peace; a "No" vote is a vote for continued destruction and international friction leading to the catastrophe of World War III. The Newton Committee for World Federation is a non-partisan group, representative of Newton's citizens, clergy, businessmen, professional men, veterans, educators and civic leaders. Many state legislatures have passed resolutions similar to this one and nation-wide polls show that the people want international law enforced by a world government but Massachusetts is the only state to place the question on the ballot.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will meet on Tuesday evening, October 22, in the Work Shop, at 8 o'clock.

Prof. H. Linwood White of the Essex County Agriculture School will speak on "Begonias." Members are asked to bring specimen begonias, also autumn arrangements.

The Hostesses will be Mrs. Lincoln Alford, Mrs. Leonard T. Jenney and Mrs. William C. Pickersgill.

Attend Savings Bank Conference

The Misses Dorothy Gordon, Mary Sawyer, Jane Rehholz, Grace McDade, and Asst. Treasurer Mrs. Betty Trow of the Newton Centre Savings Bank and Miss Ada Powell and Mrs. Doris L. Green of the Newton Savings Bank, are attending the Fall Conference of the Mass. Association of Savings Bank Women being held at Toy Town Tavern, Wintchendon, Mass., Oct. 19, and 20.

Halloween—

ditional and mischief-making type of Halloween is entirely out of place.

It becomes increasingly evident that the purposes and objectives of this great co-operative enterprise, which is sponsored by the Recreation Department, are achieved to an encouraging degree. Certainly, the results are beneficial to the children as well as to the community itself. As an illustrative sidelight, teachers have reported to me that on the day following these parties the children are more alert and work better than when, under the old system, they indulged in an evening of unchecked pranks.

"I should like to mention another important phase of this all-village endeavor. It is this: we teachers are always glad when we can get parents and the schools closer together. The process of planning these Halloween gatherings accomplishes that. Mothers, fathers and teachers work together on the various volunteer committees and, during meetings and informal discussions, learn much of each other's problems and so approach a common understanding which is decidedly advantageous to the children.

"From every standpoint, I consider Newton's Halloween event a valuable out-of-school experience, and I think I may safely say that it is the best example in the country of a community activity in which children, parents and teachers engage."

Last Saturday a hard hitting Newton, underdog team held a far superior Brockton High eleven to a score of 13-12. The first period of the game was a strictly ground battle of rushes and end runs by both teams with neither team getting a place fast. In the second canto Brockton started to use the ground covering rushes it is noted for to bring the ball to the Newton 14 yard line. From that position it was an easy matter for the Shoemakers' right half back, Bertocci, to crash the light Newton line for the score. The kick was no good, making the score, Brockton 6, Newton 0. Newton began its aerial drive when Trav Nutting intercepted a Shoemaker pass on his own 42 yard line. A pass from 47 yards to Bob McConnell brought the piskin to Brockton's 45 yard marker. Another pass by the same man caught by McConnell advanced Newton to the 21, then an offside penalty against Brockton was taken by the Newton captain, Pete Connolly, placing the ball in scoring position on the 5 yard line as the half ended. Luck, Newton just didn't have it.

In the third chapter Newton didn't waste any time, once again its passing combination of Wales to Wiper and Wales to McConnell brought the bacon into scoring position where a Wales-McConnell pass made pay-dirt, the score was then tied at 6 all. But not for long. A Brockton T.D. by Saba and a kick by Doyle put the Shoemakers ahead 13-6. The Newton score in the 4th period was through another aerial attack by Wales-McConnell and Wiper aided by the ground strategy of Henderson, the question in the minds of the fans at this point—will Newton boot, rush or pass for the extra point, and the same passing combination that made the Newton touchdowns was unable to make the point. Final score Brockton 13, Newton 12. Lady Luck, where art thou?

Not many Newton residents ever heard of a fellow Newtonite named M. L. Westenberg. However these same Newtonites have heard of Marv "Shadow" Westenberg, former heavyweight champion of the world who stopped the Hooded Terror last Thursday at the Bowser wrestling show at the Boston Arena. After the bout we went to visit our neighbor and when we asked him why he decided to live in Newton he replied, "Simply because it is so quiet and restful out there. And believe it or not grunting and growling wrestlers like peace and quiet too. I love the shouts of the crowd when I'm wrestling, however, I thoroughly enjoy the peace and solitude in Newton when I'm resting."

Next Saturday Newton faces Malden at Malden, and unless Lady Luck finally turns our way I predict a Malden victory. All B.C. Home games will be covered each week in this column. I predict B.C. to beat Villanova when they meet next week at Braves Field.

ing. Both will be arraigned in Newton Juvenile Court today. DIFFICULT TASK . . .

The most difficult task of all, concluded Turner, was that of facing the mother of the boy who had escaped, when arriving at his home, at 3 a.m., they "found her fully dressed awaiting her boy's return . . . and from then on she shared her vigil with police who were also awaiting his return, so's to take him away from her."

A difficult task indeed, but one that's facing law enforcement agencies throughout the wide and breadth of this country today. And with it goes the question of what has gone wrong in the American Home, too. "Teen agers, kids who don't even begin to know what it's all about, are a familiar sight here, there and everywhere, during the wee small hours. They tax the capacity of the all-night restaurants, crowd the sidewalks of every big city until dawn and roar over the state highways in automobiles, no, always their own."

Only a few weeks ago, Officers John McArdle and Thomas Comancon, investigating the theft of an automobile, broke up a ring of "teen agers" here, all boys of high school age, who'd stolen 50 cars. None of the kids were vicious. Not one of them had made any effort to sell or otherwise dispose of the cars they'd appropriated. Their only desire was to have a car in which to ride around in and, occasionally, take their girls riding. Two of the "borrowed" cars had been damaged and in each case, the boys' parents "made good." It seems a pity that they can't "make good" with their kids. Too many of them are getting into trouble because of their youth and innocence—plus the indifference of parents and, maybe, their schools and the clergy, also.

AROUND TOWN . . .
Roy Edward, running unopposed, as yet, will likely be elected president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce for the second time. . . There'll be plenty of meat for Sunday dinner, but it appears an airplane will be needed to catch up with the prices of choice cuts. . . Newton now holds the second lowest fatality rate of cities in its population class for the first seven months of this year. . . A 4-year-old Roxbury boy wandered into Newton last Tuesday about 2 a.m. and after enjoying a chicken supper was returned to his parents by police.

UNCLE WILLIE . . .
To Our Town After Midnight
Att. Paul Conditine

Lately I've read your column and exploits of Uncle Willie. And last week's story you told of him was certainly a lily. I knew your Uncle Willie well and a vera fine son was he. A little close but vera sound as every good Scot should be. His wife he loved vera dearly but she was a drain on him. For sickness seemed to follow her and the doctors followed him. He took her up to Glasgow once, a specialist in sight. And at every station from the train Bar Willie would alight. He'd buy two tickets every time for the station next upon the line. Now you couldn't call this cheap or mad. 'Cause the doctor had said her heart was bad. And to buy through tickets clear to Glasgow. And to suddenly hear her last long breath go. Would have been a waste — and in Willie's Clan. His ancestors just wouldn't understand."

Sandy Jock MacPherson.
Thanks, Jock. Come again. Thanks, too, for the parody on "East Side, West Side," Newton's Clerk of Court, Jim Gallagher, sent in so promptly.

Dr. Leiper to Address Council
Of Churches

The Fall Meeting of the Newton Council of Churches will be held in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton on Wednesday, October 30. A dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Reservations must be made by October 23, through Rev. W. H. Shillington, 91 High street, Newton Upper Falls.

The speaker will be Rev. Henry Smith Leiper, D.D., Associate General Secretary of the World Council's Provisional Committee and Executive Secretary of the American Committee for the World Council of Churches. Dr. Leiper also serves as the Ecumenical Secretary of the Federal Council of Churches in charge of relations with churches abroad.

Having served as an ambassador from the American Churches to Churches in many countries throughout the world, Dr. Leiper has a wide knowledge of Christian life and organization in many parts of the world—including the Orient as well as the Occident. He is a fascinating speaker.

Before the war Dr. Leiper spent each summer in Europe keeping alive contacts with Church leaders, preaching and lecturing and attending world conferences. He was in Europe when the war broke out in 1939 and was in England twice during the war. In February 1946, he attended the meeting of the World Council's Provisional Committee in Geneva; in June he made a flying trip to India to survey famine conditions; and in August he attended the meeting of the Commission on International Affairs in London.

Dr. Leiper is the author of four books.

His major responsibility is the World Council of Churches which now represents 94 churches in 34 countries. It includes practically all Christian Churches and has its principal office in Geneva.

It brings into personal fellowship standing leaders of the Churches and acts as a clearing house for the work of refugees, for Bible distribution in Europe; for reconstruction and relief work in Europe and Asia; and for work toward a better understanding of international affairs and a just and durable peace.

OUR TOWN AFTER MIDNIGHT

By PAUL CONSIDINE

Two weeks ago, this department reported the capture of two youngsters, 14 years of age, while burglarizing a store in Newton Corner. The break occurred at about 2 a.m., and again caused a more or less general discussion here concerning the lack of parental control over juveniles inclined to prowl in the night-time.

Yesterday this pillar received a letter from District Attorney George E. Thompson, of Middlesex County, as follows:

George E. Thompson
Court House
Cambridge 41, Mass.

Mr. Paul Considine
Newton Graphic
Newton, Mass.

Dear Paul:
I read with interest your article concerning 'teenagers. I cannot help but agree with you that law enforcement agencies are facing a difficult task in coping with the problem of the youthful offender. Many teen agers who start out by breaking the law as a "lark" often end up in serious trouble which leads to dire consequences for them.

The problem of juvenile offenders has assumed great proportions. Statistics show that a great majority of our criminals began their offenses in childhood and that a substantial percentage of the inmates of our penal institutions are boys under twenty-five years of age.

All law enforcement agencies have concerned themselves with the problem of juvenile delinquency. Generally however, they deal with the juvenile offender after delinquency has occurred. Society can strike deeper at the roots if the problem of delinquency is attacked before it occurs rather than after it develops that is, if prevention is substituted for cure.

The business of steering young lives clear of any contact with the law is the work of every individual and the responsibility of all. Leisure time, evil companions and a disregard for the fundamentals of good character are some of the causes which contribute to juvenile delinquency. Much has been done to remove these causes.

Public officials, clergymen, school teachers and civic minded individuals are devoting their time and energy in an effort to channel the interests of youth into activities which permit of some supervision. They are doing excellent work.

"KEY TO THE SOLUTION"
However the key to the solution of the problem is elsewhere. It is in the hands of the parents. The principal cause of juvenile delinquency is lack of parental supervision. While it is true that in some cases no amount of parental interest will prevent a youth

Merriment Abounds At Rollicking Halloween Parties

As we go to press Newton's Halloween celebration is in full swing. Throughout the city kindergartners, high school students and all the in-between graders are having a wonderful time — singing, dancing, playing games and gleefully taking part in featured stunts.

Ewing Wilson, Commissioner of Recreation, Mrs. Hovgaard, Supervisor of Recreation and chairman of the Halloween program committees, and the 1500 parents and teachers who have worked hard for weeks, are now relaxing — happy in the realization that they have done a big job well and are giving more than 11,000 young folks an evening of joyous entertainment. Next week's GRAPHIC will carry a full account of the proceedings, illustrated with pictures taken at a number of the parties.

Housing

Steelman reports 708,000 homes of all types had been started and 350,000 dwelling units completed by the first of August. However, that appears to include even trailers. In that proportion to national population, Newton should have supplied some 200 units of dwellings in the period. It is difficult to say whether some 25 families have found shelter here monthly, but that is the rate at which the national solution has been progressing elsewhere. More than half the units finished elsewhere were started last year.

These figures, mingled with the great difficulties caused by shortages of materials, indicate how builders have held back because they felt that they could not afford to tie up their organizations and working capital on projects which were not assured of completion within a reasonable time. Many have started building and found themselves stranded without essential supplies.

Mr. Wyatt has not been able to overcome the terrific effect of strikes and slowdowns in production even by supplying needed funds to assist operations. The problem of per-hour per-capita production is obvious to all, and may well stem from the paternalistic, political pampering by Washington coming home to roost after years of misleading deception.

It looks like the old law of compensation still works in the same hard way and political panaceas cannot be held out as substitutes.

Prosperity Is Threatened

The chief of post-war reconversion describes our position as one of promise, with an opportunity to move forward to higher levels of real income than any nation has ever achieved. Then he states that we have a chance of maintaining a steadily rising living standard.

All those rosy features sound well, but when the administration highbandedly passed around 18 1/2 pay advances it had to learn, or else ignored, the fact that mathematically the spiral of price advances had so been set whirling, not into full-fledged inflation as that is known, but nevertheless whirling, as now witness the agitation by Lewis and Ruetheer to jack the speed up a few notches further.

Labor itself is passing to the point of pricing itself out of its market. Nothing is worse for extended prosperity than compelling price advances by insistent increased costs, and what material does not include a still further labor cost? The rash experiments of this administration and their failures transcend all theory.

Already Secretary of Commerce Harriman warns that soft goods like textiles and clothing will slow down when hard goods such as automobiles, refrigerators, and furniture become more freely available. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers know that they must not freeze off sales by high prices. Must labor learn as always by the hard way that there is even supply and demand for their commodity as for all others? May we devoutly pray that Labor will not price itself out of its market with the national economy in this position of great promise.

Newton Lodge of Elks Met Thurs.

Salucci, Kenneth B. Newton, Setaak C. Kaprulan, Louis Anness, Chester D. Holbrook, William F. Damon, John C. Moscato, Giuseppe Corsett, Nicholas Poleselli, Terry Gifford, Camille J. Valle, Arthur J. It was announced that Exalted Ruler Nicholas Veducio had been appointed chairman of the safety committee by President Edward A. Spry of the Massachusetts Elks' Association. Other members of Newton lodge appointed to state committee are: Martin E. Conroy, chairman of the Bedford Hospital committee; Thomas L. Feeney, member of the Bedford Hospital committee; Raymond Tedeschi, Brighton Marine Hospital committee; Joseph Valente, Bedford Hospital; William E. Earle, past president's banquet; Matthew J. Hurley, ritualistic committee of the central district.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

The Election

This year it is somewhat difficult to write a preview of our state election for the simple reason that it now appears that the result will be determined as much, if not more, by national and international issues as by normal state issues.

Frankly, I have felt for some months now that all the important state-wide contests would be exceedingly close. That applied especially to the U. S. Senatorship and the Governorship. Regardless of what you may have heard on the street-corners or down on Newspaper Row in Boston, neither Lodge nor Senator Walsh has been in a safe position: the same may be said of Bradford, our Lt. Governor and Maurice J. Tobin, our Governor. The battle for Lt. Governor had shown signs of being settled in favor of the Democratic candidate, former Attorney General Paul A. Dever, who is currently finding a gentleman named Coolidge, (Arthur W.), the President of our State Senate, a much more powerful opponent than he has been willing to admit. Parenthetically, I heard Dever on the radio last night and a more demagogical speech has never been given. Dever showed that he was badly frightened. He dug up some old 1936-1939 House

Coolidge's record of Coolidge's votes on various labor measures. He proved to his own complete satisfaction that Coolidge was a foe to labor and the special pet of the so-called interests. The funny part of it was that he tried to claim credit for the Democratic party in connection with the passage of certain measures favoring labor during the Tobin administration. Does Dever forget that it was a strongly controlled Republican House of Representatives that passed these bills and that our Governor did was to sign them when they came to his desk? Also, why go back ten years to criticize an opponent? Maybe Dever's complete record wasn't so hot at that time.

Now, back to the two big contests. Let's be completely honest about the situation. Former Senator Henry Cabot Lodge may have had a slight lead over aging Senator Walsh prior to the famous Moscow announcement. The point is that this error on Moscow's part put ALL Democratic candidates right behind the eight-ball, or on the hot-seat, if you prefer that phrase. The combination of a hearty endorsement of our Governor by the CIO and the Russian interference threw the Democratic campaign into confusion, rightly or wrongly. And please bear in mind what was said recently in this same space. The writer is NOT suggesting that ANY of our local Democratic candidates is a Red or anything like it. However, if a man is willing and eager to secure the support of important organizations which have a definite Red tinge, he must expect to be criticized for accepting this support.

That reminds me of a humorous twist which Arthur Coolidge gave to Dever's criticism of "dragging a red herring across the trail", when Coolidge needed his opponent for accepting CIO assistance. The Senate President suggested that there were countless times during the recent meat shortage when the voters would have welcomed even a red herring on their dinner-tables!

What is the situation today? In addition to the Russian interference, we find that several hundred thousand voters, to be conservative, are now completely fed-up with the utter confusion and mismanagement down in Washington. Shortages and then more shortages, strikes and then more strikes, with a possible coal famine for this winter a possibility, failure to balance the federal budget, failure to make high-grade appointments, failure to please ANY of the many diverse elements of the Democratic party and a general ineptness all along the line, have all combined to bring about a state of affairs in which we find the Democratic candidates running around the entire state without so much as mentioning the name of President Truman. And to think how all Democrats for some twelve years used to get up on the platform and hang on to the late Mr. Roosevelt's coat-tails as hard as they could, knowing that this was either the best way, or, in some cases, the only way in which they could get themselves elected. Instead, what do we find today? We find phonograph records being used to bring Mr. Roosevelt's voice into the home. If that sort of tactic isn't plain disgusting, I don't know what is.

I am wondering how the members of the late President's family like this procedure. No, I have a well-defined hunch that this campaign, not just in Massachusetts, but all over the country, is going to be settled on a basis which is one-third intellectual and two-thirds emotional. In this state, for example, the original issues of sound, economical government, decent appointments and business-like administration of state affairs, appear to be very much overshadowed at the moment by the voters' peace of mind, if any, and his attitude toward the Truman administration. The result may well be that men like La-rence Curtis, running against State Treasurer Hurley, Democrat, and Russell A. Wood, running against State Auditor Buckley, will wake up the morning after election and find that they have been elected, along with the entire G.O.P. ticket. Attorney General Barnes, due to his profound courage in fighting his labor-regulation bills plus the expected Democratic defection from the raucous Frankie Kelly, will almost surely be re-elected. Secretary of State Cook can only be beaten by a political cyclone. Members of both parties are more than satisfied with his long and completely satisfactory administration of his department.

Now, if there is a Republican sweep, regardless of the exact size of it, my feeling is that the approximate standing of the winners, (meaning the size of their victory margin of votes) will be about as follows:—Secretary of State Cook, Lodge, Bradford, Barnes, Coolidge, Wood and Curtis, tho' the last two might come in in reverse order. Of course, by the same token, I am implying that if the Democrats do much better than expected, it will be the Republicans toward the end of my list who will suffer defeat.

Other Important Contests

There have been few, if any, times when I could so wholeheartedly recommend to my readers a vote for our Congressman, Christian A. Herter, our Governor's Councillor, Col. Otis M. Whitney of Concord and G.O.P. candidate for the State Senate, Richard H. Lee. Herter stands head and shoulders above his opponent, using any yardstick at all, in addition to being one of the outstanding Congressmen in the entire Congress; Col. Whitney is everything that any voter could ask for as a member of the Governor's Council and Dick Lee is just what the doctor ordered as a new Republican office-holder. His opponent sends out literature without mention of his party affiliation. I wonder why? As to Col. Whitney's opponent, it took the writer two weeks to even locate a little personal information about him immediately after the primaries. Again, why?

I shall vote AGAINST No. 1 for reasons stated in the papers for some time past. I shall vote FOR the No. 2 or Barnes proposition; also for the UNO scheme and for women jury service. However you vote on Nov. 5, be sure that you VOTE.

Last Saturday, October 26, a hard hitting, underdog Newton team defeated an over-rated Belmont squad by a score of 32-21. This was accomplished chiefly through the terrific passing combination of George Wales to Bob MacConnell-Wiper or Henderson.

First Period

In the first quarter the game seemed lost as far as Newton was concerned. As the period opened Cass of Belmont recovered a Newton fumble on the Garden City 30 yd. stripe. From here the ground rushes of Powell and Whyntop pushed the ball up to the Newton 7 where Graham plunged over for the score. Conley's kick for the extra point was good. On the initial play after the kick off Newton fumbled once again this time the ball was recovered by Belmont's Pirano. A Paraghemian to Pirano pass was completed for the Belmont tally. Once again Conley's kick was good. Belmont 14, Newton 0.

Second Period

Newton then turned on its famed aerial offense to move the ball to the Belmont 15 yd. marker. A Wales to Henderson pass made gold-dust and Wales then split the Goal Post for the extra point. Once again a Wales pass this time received by MacConnell, who then lateraled to Trav Nutting brought the ball to the Belmont 2 Frankie Tanner then dived over for pay-dirt. The kick was no good. Belmont 14, Newton 13.

Third Period

Vic Knapman must have given the Newton squad vitamin pills, for here's what happened in the second half. Nutting received the Belmont kick-off and then scampered back 35 yds. Just three plays later Gig Wales plunged over from the 15 for the score. Captain Pete Connolly then took his turn and ran from mid field to the Belmont 7. On the very next play he crashed center for the T.D. The kick was good. Newton 26, Belmont 14.

Fourth Period

Belmont opened the canto with a Belmont Tee Dee by Graham.

However, after the kick of Newton came right back as Jack Sharkey (son of the former World's Heavyweight Champ) recovered a Belmont fumble. Soon afterwards Wales went off tackle to score his second T.D. of the game. A Belmont pass was then intercepted by Henderson who would have made pay dirt if time had not run out ending the game which turned out to be underdog Newton's first win of the season. Final score: Newton 32, Belmont 21.

Newton Teen Agers meeting place this week was Johnson's on the Pike. Here we saw Ed Ryan former Newton Basketball star who is currently playing first string in the same sport for Boston College. We met Bob Scanlon, Newton's 3 letter man of last year and former Senior Class President. Anthony Soncini, holder of the record for more penalty's than any other player in one Hockey season was present together with Bob Barry and Jackie Fitzgerald, two other former N.H.S. ace hockey players.

Lenny Gilman was home for a short visit from Washington Jefferson College in Washington, Pa. last week. Who are his two friends Scarelli and Valenti, he was always talking about?

Newton teen's told Boston and vicinity what was wrong with parents la stwee koev rstation parents last week over station WHDH, through their representatives, Patty Blake, Marthe Palmer, Burt Woodward, and Al Brailey. The chief fault they found with parents was that they do not seem to realize that they are no longer children, but young men and women, and wish to be treated as young men and women. (I agree whole heartedly) Arlene Kaplan tells us, "Kilroy was a graduate of N.H.S."

Service Clubs Endorse World Federation

Alexander Standish, chairman of the Newton Committee for World Federation, announce the enthusiastic endorsement of the World Federation by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Chamber of Commerce of Newton. He was pleased but not surprised as these business leaders of Newton recognize how much residents of Newton have to live for. Peace does not just happen. It requires work as well as wishing.

"If you want peace, vote for it on November 5. The question is last on the Newton ballot but first in importance" is the statement of the members of these four outstanding Newton groups of business and professional men.

There will be no time to prepare to fight another world war. A single ounce of botulism toxin can kill 180,000,000 people. It takes no Oak Ridge to manufacture bacterial death. It can be made in any brewery. It is but one example of the highly destructive nature of the next world war. To protect their homes, their families and the businesses these four groups of Newton men say "Vote for Peace. Vote YES on the last question on your ballot on November 5."

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club met at the home of Miss Alice Jones and Miss Madeline Sears of Snider street, who served as co-hostesses.

Mr. Joseph Randall, principal of the R. W. Emerson, showed pictures of gardens with early flowering bulbs. At the roll call, Miss Alice Jones received the highest award for the best specimen of chrysanthemums and the best autumn verse. Mrs. Mary Wiecekoff received the second award. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Hospital Has Urgent Need of More Nurses Aides

The continued training and service of nurses aides has recently been vigorously stated by Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the local chapters and higher officials of the American Red Cross, and also by the American Nurses Association at its recent Atlantic City meeting. Consequently, the Newton and Wellesley chapters of the American Red Cross, with the approval of their national headquarters, have decided to continue their program of training nurses aides. These local chapters are making an earnest appeal for recruits for classes soon to begin.

The hospital's effort to obtain sufficient paid personnel adequately to administer to the needs and comforts of its increasing patient population has not yet succeeded in reaching the desired goal. Plans for training a permanent employed class of nurses aides are under consideration, but hospitals where such training programs are now in effect report a serious dearth of applicants. Sufficient help from this source seems rather distant. The number of graduates nurses is still inadequate despite increases in wages. This shortage will doubtless continue for months.

It is believed that when the actuality of the need is generally known the women of Newton and Wellesley will again respond as they did so splendidly while the war was being actively waged, either by resuming the volunteer service for which they have had training or by enlisting in the classes about to begin. Even a few hours of time each week spent on this work will help greatly both the hospital and its patients.

Newton Lower Falls Improvement Asso.

The Newton Lower Falls improvement Association met on October 14 in the Parish House of St. Mary's Church. The speaker for the evening was Mr. Harold F. Young, street commissioner of Newton.

Since its reorganization last July, the Association has taken an active interest in the civic affairs of the community and its membership is increasing at each meeting.

The next meeting will be held on November 18 at which a speaker from the Newton Tuberculosis & Health Association will address the members on "Your Health Department and How It Serves You."

The need is urgent and real. To meet it the Red Cross stands ready. The help of the citizens is earnestly sought.

LT. GOV. ROBERT F. BRADFORD, GOP candidate for Governor, takes time off from his whirlwind tour of the state to visit his mother, Mrs. Edward H. Bradford, at the family homestead in Marshfield, where he assists her with the knitting, discusses the progress of the campaign and obtains some motherly advice.

Younger Set Finds Shangri-La In Newtonville

by BETTY TYLER

Every town and city has hangouts where the younger set gather to comment on Mary's new outfit, Joe's girl, the grumpy history teacher, and so on down the line covering everything humanly imaginable.

Brigham's is the spot of rendezvous in Newtonville. Here the scene is almost entirely dominated by Newton High students, who form a perfect picture of the teen-ager today.

Classes are over at 2:30, and after rushing madly back and forth between the three buildings which comprise Newton High, a throng of 2,500 pours out onto the streets. Out of this riotous bunch of tomorrow's citizens is formed the crowd of kids who unfailingly day after day, rain or shine, with determined steps, head for their Shangri-La.

Sweaters and skirts, long bobs, loafers and boys' white socks make the woman, and carefully combed hair, smooth looking jackets, trousers rolled up a few inches to show the manly ankle, and curled up saddies, complete the perfect man.

On an ordinary school day conditions aren't so bad. A drink can usually be had at the fountain—standing of course. Now that the football season is on, though, times are different. Any solid Newtonite will tell you it is sheer murder to approach Brigham's and vicinity right after a game.

Newton's beautiful Dickinson Stadium seats around 5,800. Out of this number a couple of hundred of the rooters of the Orange and Black make a beeline for a soda or sundae. In a few minutes the room and the street outside is so jammed that all a poor respectable citizen can do is to press his or her nose against the plate glass window and drool. Inside it is bedlam.

In booths seating four, six to eight are squeezed. The passageway between the fountain and tables is so packed, and there is so much pushing and shoving going on, that those in the booths are constantly in danger of having a stranger on their lap or in their sundae. In the midst of this melee the waitresses try to serve. Most of them are of high school age, and considering the amount of fooling that goes on, it's wondrous how the work gets done, but it does and well.

The noise is ear-splitting. All are trying to make themselves heard by someone at the other end of the room. By this time the air is saturated with smoke, and objects in the distance are rather hazy.

The entrance is guarded by an officer of the law, and as soon as one goes out, one goes in, and not until then. It seldom makes any difference to him if a party is split up, and one lone member fails to reach the door. About an hour and a half later peace reigns. Only chocolate sauce, dishes, cigarettes, napkins, and straws show what had been. Then a timid soul can go and ask for that box of candy.

"On His Record"

CITED FOR SERVICE TO VETERANS

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION
 Washington, D. C.

January 15, 1946

The Honorable Christian A. Herter
 House of Representatives
 Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Herter:
 I have read Dr. Ober's report on the West Roxbury Veterans' Administration Hospital. This is a most excellent report. It is thorough and critical, without being unfair. I am using this report as the basis of making changes for the bettering of this hospital. I think we may expect improvements within a very short time.

I understand that you were instrumental in having this survey made by Dr. Ober. In so doing you have rendered a distinct service to the veteran and to those of us who are trying hard to improve the medical care of the veteran. Sincerely yours,

(signed) Paul R. Hawley, Major General
 Chief Medical Director

A REAL FRIEND OF THE VETERAN

358 Walnut Ave., Roxbury
 Honorable Christian A. Herter
 House of Representatives
 Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Herter:
 As a veteran of foreign service, may I extend my sincere thanks to you not only for what you have done for me but for other veterans as well. I feel that you have displayed a thorough understanding of the problems facing the serviceman on his return to civilian life and that you have been very quick to extend to him a helping hand whenever the opportunity presented itself. I know that many other veterans will agree with me when I say that you have proved yourself a real friend of the veteran.

Very sincerely yours,

SMALL BUSINESS ENDORSES HIM

Dear Congressman Herter:

You, more than most of the other members of the House of Representatives, have shown your active interest in the problems confronting small business, and we are mindful of your efforts to aid us in solving some of the problems small business is facing. We wish especially to commend you for your statesmanlike stand on what are regarded as controversial issues. We wish to take this opportunity of expressing to you deep appreciation of your constructive work in promoting the passage of good legislation to save our free enterprise system and private initiative in American as typified by small business. I wish it were possible for me, personally, to tell every business man throughout the 10th Congressional District in Massachusetts that he should feel under obligation to you.

Cordially and sincerely,

Oct. 4, 1946
 Fred A. Virkus
 Chairman, Conference of American Small Business Organizations.

"Herter has worked hard at the job of being a congressman. He has had the best attendance record of any member in Congress."

—Parkway Transcript.

"Congressman Herter merits a word of praise for voting the way he considered to be in the best interests of the people of his district, a practice which, unfortunately, is not too widespread in Congress."

—Brighton Citizen.

Higher Taxes in 1947, Mayor Tells Kiwanis Club

With increased expenses, purchase of new equipment, $120,000 for the Highway Department alone, Mayor Paul M. Goddard told the Newton Kiwanis Club, at the noon meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last Wednesday, the taxes in Newton are bound to be increased in 1947.

Stating that we are living in a "Gimmie, Gimmie Age," with little given in return, Mayor Goddard said the prevalent belief that something can be had for nothing is a fallacy. Troubles and difficulties are transitory, he said. "The pendulum always swings back" and added, "the capabilities and capacity of humans are boundless when the pressure is on."

Concerning the polio cases in Newton, the Mayor informed the club that we have one of the best health departments in the country and that the best authorities on polio in the nation have been consulted repeatedly, concerning preventative measures and the treatment of polio.

Of nineteen cases in Newton, he added, but 15 originated here. Four sufferers from the disease arriving in Newton with polio and there are but seven active cases here now. Parents call doctors more quickly now, Mr. Goddard said, when children show symptoms of illness. The majority of cases are giving evidence of complete recovery. According to the health authorities, he concluded, it is safer to keep the schools open inasmuch as the chance of contracting polio outside is greater.

Touching on Old Age Assistance, Mayor Goddard declared that only two other states are on par with Massachusetts in providing for the aged. He's against the referendum putting the control of Old Age Assistance under Central control. It would cost $20,000,000 more, he said, and Newton's handling this problem better than most cities.

The constant demand for increased wages by city and state employees is a problem, the Mayor said, and a difficult one. Every one knows there's a "squeeze on" with the increased cost of living, and that something will have to be done. There have been raises, he continued, and a bonus but that something more will have to be done, also.

Mayor Goddard concluded his talk assuring his listeners that it has been an honor to serve them as Mayor and that he is grateful for the honor given him to act as the city's chief executive.

Donald Wallace, President of the Somerville Kiwanis Club, attended with a doctor George E. Jones, Fred Harris and William Gill.

There will be a directors meeting next Monday night.

The Club will ballot next week on Doctor Ernest Marcoux for President, Frank Battles, 1st vice president, Harold Pillsbury, 2nd vice president and Walter Hood for treasurer of the club.

Next week's speaker will be a representative of Greater Boston's Community Fund.

Rodney Davis Opens At Beaconsfield's Hunt Room Nov. 6

Rodney Davis, well known master of the organ and spinnet piano, will open his engagement on Wednesday, November 6th in the Beaconsfield's popular Hunt Room. He has appeared in the country's most popular cocktail lounges, and has played before royalty, high brass and the glittering stars of Hollywood.

Rod started his successful music career while still in college, when he formed one of the Mid-West's outstanding collegiate bands, "The Music Masters." Prior to the war, he played with the orchestra of Ted Lewis and Paul Sabini, and he ended his army career as featured pianist with the G. I. Symphony Orchestra at Fort Benning. While on the coast, he played accompaniment for the DeMarcos, Simone Simon, Eddie Cantor and Tony Martin; but his real buddies were Amos and Andy.

Rod's favorite American composer is George Gershwin but he beats out boggle with the best and picks sophisticated swing music over the classics. When you drop into the Hunt Room, you are just as likely to hear him play Clair de Lune as Give Me Five Minutes More. He plays the patrons' favorites.

He opens at 6:00 p. m. on November 6th, and will play from 8:00 to 12:00 nightly, except Sunday, thereafter, Rodney Davis will be one more reason to make the Hunt Room, already the most popular of suburban spots, a favorite place to go.

Woman's Alliance to Hold Annual Fair

Under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Marshall B. Dalton, the Women's Alliance of the First Unitarian Church, Washington street, West Newton, will hold its Annual Fair in the Parish House on Wednesday, November 6, beginning at 10:00 a. m.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Cobb, special attractions are planned for children including movies and a Christmas work shop.

Among the many "hard to get articles" on the various tables will be jams, jellies, and home-made candies. There will be an abundance of household and kitchen needs including hand sewn aprons, and luncheon sets.

Mrs. Harry D. Cabot and Mrs. William J. Tyler will preside over a heavily laden table of tempting home prepared foods fresh from the kitchens of the best cooks in the parish.

Mrs. William H. Best and Mrs. Marshall B. Dalton are in charge of selling a large range of carefully selected new books, and Mrs. George G. Ballard is in charge of the used books table.

Mrs. Frank P. Schofield and Mrs. William C. Hill are in charge of the Attic Treasure table which always contains unusual and interesting items.

Among those in charge of other tables will be — Candy, Mrs. Ethel P. Coty and Mrs. Charles Thompson; Children's, Miss Lilly-Owen Smith and Mrs. William Styles; Flowers, Mrs. William R. Mattson and Mrs.

William J. Skinner; Gifts, Miss Margaret Jewett and Mrs. Norman W. Bingham; Grabs for Children, Mrs. Robert Cobb; Household, Mrs. Frederick Morash; Paper, Mrs. Paul K. Losh. Luncheon will be served under the auspices of Mrs. Stephen W. Harris, and dinner under the auspices of Mrs. Walter H. Scheel.

No Shortages at the "Harvest Bazaar"

Tables will be so loaded Wednesday, November 6th at the "Harvest Bazaar," Newtonville Methodist church, that for a few hours the word "Shortage" will be lost from thought and conversation. No member of the family has been overlooked — babies and the very young will be adorable in hand crocheted and knitted garments. All the glory of color and style for the teenage, and the sex and shorts for father have been mentioned. Aprons to gloat over, beautiful ones for that special tea will hang beside those worn with "dishpan hands." Pure linen dish towels (how long since you've seen any?), dainty luncheon sets, and a host of items not generally found at church fairs will delight those looking for the unusual. And who doesn't like to browse among the White Elephants, our neighbors' castoffs? Christmas cards and wrappings, awaiting your selection, remind us the holiday season is here. A little legitimate hoarding has been practised so you may find a well stocked food table including home baked beans, salads, rolls, cakes, jams, jellies, etc.; and CANDY, believe it or not, to satisfy that craving for sweets. Your fate will be in your hands — a palmer will tell you so. A home cooked luncheon served at noon will help you relax before the afternoon session. Dinner at 6:30 will be limited to 200, therefore reservations must be made immediately by calling Lasell 3933. Credit for the lavish display goes to each member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service who has worked diligently that this bazaar may be long remembered. We'll be ready for you Wednesday, November 6th!

Chest-

the same level of last year's giving the Fund would receive this year only $6,705,000, which would represent a deficit of $295,000 in this year's goal of $7,000,000, the minimum amount that the budget committees have determined will be needed to cover the increased cost of maintaining Red Feather Services for the 51 communities of Greater Boston during 1947.

To reach this goal substantially increased subscriptions must be received. In connection with the needs of the coming campaign Mr. Franklin K. Hoyt, Newton Campaign chairman, states, "To meet the 1947 minimum needs of the Red Feather services of the Greater Boston Community Fund, including the member agencies of the Newton Community Chest, the Board of Directors and Budget Committee of Greater Boston have set a goal of $7,000,000. The Campaign Committee in Newton has accepted as its share of this goal—$321,000."

"Payments to the nearly 300 Community Fund agencies for 1946 were approximately $6,250,000. With wages, food and supplies up, with requests for services increased, with maintenance long deferred now necessary, and with hospital conditions acute, it is easy to see why substantially more is needed. The goal of $7,000,000 must be met and there can be no compromise."

"John E. Lawrence, Greater Boston Campaign chairman, says, 'This is a year of challenge and decision. The question which lies squarely before the people of Greater Boston is this: 'Are we going to enable the Greater Boston Community Fund to carry on those health and social services to humanity which have made Boston renowned for its social consciousness?' The alternative is a sharp curtailment... and this is unthinkable.' 'I am confident that the people of Newton will meet the challenge and keep our own and the Greater Boston community strong.'"

Red Feather Sunday will be observed throughout Greater Boston in churches of all denominations on Sunday, November 10, and leaflets have been prepared which will be distributed at these services. Special displays are being prepared for use throughout Newton that will emphasize the type of service that is being rendered by the Newton Red Feather Agencies. Electric and telegraph poles in the city now display the Red Feather symbol and the campaign slogan "Ring the Bell." Window placards will be placed throughout the city next week. Every effort is being made to publicize the Community Fund Campaign in this most important year.

ing of the Newton Chapter, held on Wednesday evening, October 23rd, Mr. Charles B. Floyd, chairman, made grateful acknowledgment of the staggering number of hours put in by workers in the 24 departments of the chapter.

In his opening comments, Mr. Floyd said: "The World War ended some fourteen months ago, but peace has not yet been signed by the Allies and the countries with which they have been at war. The affairs of the world still seem desperately unsettled. . . . Until the nations are able to produce for themselves and stabilize their governments, and until some of the strife and sickness are eliminated and our Army and Navy withdrawn from foreign lands, the need for Red Cross effort continues." He pointed out that many committees need more volunteer help for work such as typing, switchboard, Motor Corps, Nurses' Aides and speakers' bureau.

Copies of the complete annual report were distributed to all those present. These add up to an impressive story of work accomplished. Mr. Walter Webling, treasurer, commented on the detailed financial report, stating that present assets of the Chapter total $76,567.26.

Mr. Thomas E. Shirley of the Nominating Committee presented the following slate of officers: Chairman, Charles B. Floyd; vice chairman, Thomas E. Shirley; treasurer, Walter Webling, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. James Dunlop. This list was reelected to serve for the coming year. Also elected to the Executive Committee were Mrs. Henry T. Patch, Mr. John S. Whittemore, Mr. Ernest Cooper and Mrs. Robert W. Moore.

Mr. Charles G. McEachran, Regional Director for the states of Mass. and Conn., was next introduced. He opened his talk with congratulations to the Newton Chapter on the adequacy and attractiveness of its headquarters at 21 Foster street, Newtonville. He stated that the Red Cross is still operating under the Charter adopted in 1905 and that it has the same obligations to society. Membership in the organization involves giving not only money but service. Tying the local activities in with the world picture, he spoke of Red Cross' only new program, the Civilian Blood Donor plan which has been undertaken in conjunction with the State, looking forward to the day when whole blood will be available, free of charge, to the public. The Water Safety program is as important as ever, and work in the hospitals, both civilian and veteran, is still very much needed.

Overseas, the Red Cross has spent millions in civilian relief, and touching letters of thanks come pouring in from all over the world for garments made in the local workrooms, for medicines and other supplies. The Red Cross is humanitarianism; it is the practical application of the Golden Rule.

Mr. Francis W. Hatch, chairman of the Greater Boston Fund Campaign for 1946, then talked on the desirability of introducing the light touch and a sense of humor into work of this kind, and of putting FUN into FUND-raising.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee following the annual meeting, the bylaws were changed to increase the Board of Directors to forty-five. Announcement was made of the following chairmen who will serve for the coming year: Blood Donor Service, Mrs. Dana F. Baird; Disaster Preparedness, Mr. Charles B. Floyd; First Aid, Mr. Ralph B. Emery; Home Nursing, Mrs. Chester M. Alter; Junior Red Cross, Miss Jane Wymann; Nutrition, Mrs. John L. Heibek; Nutrition Aides, Mrs. George W. Armstrong; Public Information, Mrs. E. Graham Bates; Water Safety and Accident Preparedness, Mr. Frank E. Dowsett; Volunteer Special Services, Mrs. William L. Young and Mrs. P. Edward Eden, vice chairman.

Mrs. Leo E. Conannon; Arts and Skills, Miss Kathleen Andrews; Canteen, Mrs. Ernest H. McClure; Gray Ladies, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Mrs. J. B. Giltner; Gray Ladies, Marine Hospital, Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham; Gray Ladies, Cushing Hospital, Mrs. Hugh Munro; Educational Aides, Mrs. Lorraine Holmes; Motor Corps, Mrs. R. M. E. Badger; Nurse's Aides, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr.; Production, Mrs. Margaret P. Braff; Knitting, Miss Kathleen Andres; Staff Assistance, Mrs. Paul M. Goddard; Fund Campaign, Mr. John S. Whittemore and Mrs. Henry T. Patch.

The Board of Directors will be made up of these chairmen and the following newly-elected members: Mr. Harold B. Gores, Miss Adelaide Ball, Rabbi Samuel N. Sherman, Dr. Stewart Hamilton, Mr. William H. Sullivan, Mr. J. Frank Dunleavy, Mr. Clarence Mease, Dr. George Crabtree, Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, Father Francis X. Bransfield.

Refreshments were served following the meeting in the cafeteria at City Hall by a committee from the Canteen Corps consisting of Mrs. Horace W. Cole, Mrs. Everett L. Olds and Mrs. H. J. Peratsakis.

Writer's Workshop Group Meets

The first meeting of the Writer's Workshop group sponsored by the Literature Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Willis E. Pattison, 63 Kenwood avenue, Newton Centre, the evening of October 23.

Mrs. Francis J. Flagg was in charge of the meeting and her enthusiasm and interest in the career of embryo writers was most stimulating and encouraging.

Mabel McNeill Hagen, feature story writer, for many magazines, was speaker. Her understanding and sympathy for beginning writers, too, furthered the purpose of the evening.

Although the group consisted mainly of Woman's Club members, the Workshop is open to anyone interested in selling the written word. There is a small fee. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Donald M. Hill, 24 Solon street, Newton Highlands, with Mrs. Marjory Carleton, a well-known writer, and Newton neighbor, as speaker.

After a round table discussion concerning the writing of the short story the hostess, Mrs. Pattison, served refreshments.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Wightman presents as the speaker of the afternoon Dorothy Adlow who will speak on "American Art—Past and Present." Miss Estelle G. Marsh, the president, will preside and present the State Art Chairman, Mrs. John A. McAuliffe, who will tell of the work of her dept. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Kenneth Bernard and Mrs. William F. Ferrin, with Mrs. Harold G. Ssterland, accompanist.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting with Mrs. William B. Hanna, Mrs. William T. Jones and Mrs. Ernest Keppers joining.

Refreshments were served following the meeting in the cafeteria at City Hall by a committee from the Canteen Corps consisting of Mrs. Horace W. Cole, Mrs. Everett L. Olds and Mrs. H. J. Peratsakis.

Tobin Points To Progress Made Under His Leadership

Governor Maurice J. Tobin, maintaining the fast-moving tempo of his campaign for reelection to a second term, this week pointed to the progress Massachusetts has made under his leadership during the past two years and asked reelection next Tuesday so that he may complete the job he has started.

Some of the achievements of his administration, cited by the Governor in addresses before large and enthusiastic gatherings, as he drove into the final stages of his campaigning, were:

When OPA rent controls were suddenly lifted last spring he moved swiftly and effectively to prevent confusion and wholesale evictions of tenants that would have thrown the Massachusetts housing situation into a chaotic condition. He was the only Governor in the nation to have a comprehensive program ready to put into effect when the recent controls went out of existence. He was the first Governor in the United States to act to meet the emergency.

Under Governor Tobin's leadership the Logan International Airport has been made one of the finest in the country and the facilities of Massachusetts ports have been greatly expanded and improved. The increased flow of air travel and shipping through Massachusetts has been reflected in the postwar prosperity of the State and has placed the Commonwealth in a position to bid for its share of the world's commerce.

He obtained the passage of legislation to provide increase allowances for elderly persons on old age assistance and for fatherless families in needy circumstances so that they might be better able to meet the higher living costs, drawing GOP criticism for both actions.

Governor Tobin provided increased educational opportunities for veterans by establishing the State College at Fort Devens and regional high schools throughout the State, the latter for ex-servicemen who left desks in high school classrooms to enter the armed forces. As part of the program for veterans, which included a State bonus, the Governor also acted to open veterans' counseling and advice centers to help ex-GIs with their readjustment problems.

Under Governor Tobin the pension system has been liberalized so that State, city and county employees may retire on more adequate pensions when they complete their periods of public service.

Increased security for the working man and his family was made possible through the Governor's action in revising upwards workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation, with allowances for family dependents. Both steps were achieved in the face of strong Republican opposition.

Mr. Tobin championed the construction of a new $1,600,000 Soldiers' Home in Holyoke and a $2,500,000 addition to the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea. He established a State blood bank from which hospitals throughout the Commonwealth could draw in emergencies when lives hung in the balance.

He succeeded in getting beef shipped here for hospital patients during the recent meat shortage. He blocked moves during his administration for the enactment of a sales tax, announcing that he would veto such a law on the ground that it would hit too heavily at the pocketbook of the person in moderate circumstances.

The Governor has plans underway for the construction of additions to three hospitals for feeble-minded children, and he has arranged for Camp Myles Standish to be converted into a modern and fully equipped institution for the care of such children.

Shortly after he assumed office as Governor, Mr. Tobin early in 1945 found 11 children huddled one morning in a cheerless room in the basement of the State House. On inquiries he found that where unfortunate youngsters were taken who were State wards, waiting for foster homes to be found for them. On sharp orders from the Governor more wholesome and pleasant quarters were quickly found elsewhere and the procedure in handling such children made far more humane.

On the strength of Governor Tobin's record that includes those and numerous other achievements his supporters are asking his reelection on next Tuesday to another term.

One of the clearest issues of this campaign has been the question of establishing a Department of Commerce to capitalize on the State's business and industrial opportunities and advantages and provide greater employment opportunities in the years ahead.

Governor Tobin proposed the establishment of the department, was blocked in his attempt to create it and has announced that if he is reelected he will resume his fight for it next January. Lieutenant Governor Bradford led the opposition to the Governor's Department of Commerce plan and has criticized it in campaign speeches.

Mr. Tobin points out that he enlisted the best business brains he could find to determine the advisability of setting up such a department, including Joseph P. Kennedy and the dean of the Harvard Business School and that they were in agreement with him that a Department of Commerce could mean much to the future of Massachusetts. He charges that in preventing the establishment of the department

Waban

A meeting of the Junior Activities Group will be held November 4th at 7 p. m. at the Waban Neighborhood Club. All of High School Age are invited to attend.

Republican leaders placed petty politics above the welfare of the Commonwealth.

Governor Tobin in his pledge to the people of Massachusetts as he neared the close of his campaign said:

"As Governor of this Commonwealth, I shall continue to serve the people of Massachusetts competently—I shall continue to be faithful to my trust. With divine guidance and help, this pledge I shall not break."

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Dinner time is get-together time for the family. To make it a pleasant time for all, serve meals for your family just as attractive as any you prepare for your guests," said Miss Dorothy Dexter, home economist for John P. Squire Company, speaking to members of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, October 29. Miss Dexter demonstrated colorful platters of meat that were easy to prepare and attractively garnished. She explained how best to store, prepare, and serve many Squire's products. At the close of the demonstration all the meats were raffled off to members.

The all day meeting, in charge of Mrs. Robert Bonner, Jr., American Home Chairman, opened at 11:00 a.m. Miss Betty M. Fuert, color consultant of the Glidden Co., spoke on the use of color in the home. "This is the age of color," she said. From the moment when a bright red rattle dazzles the eyes of a baby, color influences a person's life.

After Miss Fuert's talk, dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Edward T. Edmonds, with the able assistance of all the members of the American Home Committee. Mrs. Robert Holmes, who was the first American Home Committee chairman of the Auburndale Woman's Club, came from Whitman for this meeting and served as one of the pourers. Other pourers were Mrs. Edwin L. Corthell, Mrs. William W. Edson, and Mrs. Brooks A. Heath.

During the luncheon interval Miss Laura DuBarry Blodeau made portrait sketches of the members. Miss Blodeau, who has sketched various notables, was assisted by Mrs. Ralph A. Balch.

A sale of hand made ties for Christmas gifts was conducted by Mrs. Robert F. Crane, Mrs. Percy E. Crosby, and Mrs. Horton L. White. Mrs. Forrest E. Lange was in charge of the raffle of meat.

The business meeting was conducted by the club president, Mrs. Eric J. Kernath. A representative of the Greater Boston Community Fund Drive, Mrs. Davey, told the club members about personal contact she had given much-needed help by agencies receiving aid from the Community Fund. She asked the members for their whole-hearted support of the drive.

Mrs. Mark F. Lessees, speaking for the League of Women Voters, reviewed the present political situation and explained the referendum which will appear on the general election ballot. The club president reminded each member of her duty not only to get out and vote, but also to be intelligently informed before she voted.

The Quartermaster Corps has developed a new canned bread item for Army rations which keeps well in all kinds of climate, is highly nutritious, and is preferred by the soldiers to the old-type ration biscuits and crackers.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

Air conditioning systems are of three types, known as: summer air conditioning systems which cool, de-humidify and circulate the air; winter air conditioning systems which heat, humidify and circulate; and year-round air conditioning systems which perform the functions of both summer and winter systems. A complete air conditioning system also cleans the air and provides ventilation by admitting some fresh air. Circulation is produced by fans and duct systems, heating by steam or hot water coils or by coal, gas or oil fired furnaces, cooling by mechanical refrigeration, and cleaning the air by washers or filters.

The feature of greatest importance from the fire hazard is the opportunity which ducts present for transmitting fire and smoke from one section of a building to another. In some cases duct systems have been the means for spreading fire from one small portion of a building to the entire building. Even where fire itself is not carried through the duct system a great deal of damage can be done through transmission of smoke, especially in department stores and theatre auditoriums. In theatres smoke issuing from a system is apt to cause panic. Where not properly safeguarded extensive duct systems can be expected to make fire fighting difficult and to result in large fire losses.

One of the best ways to reduce the possibility of having an air conditioning system spread fire throughout a building is to divide the system in large buildings into several parts with wholly separate duct systems for each part. In this way the area subject to fire attack through the duct system can be definitely limited. Where values are high, or the contents very flammable or there are different occupancies on each floor, it is advisable to have separate duct systems for each floor.

Many systems have ducts extending through several floors in the building and through fire partitions. In such cases automatic fire dampers should be installed in the ducts where they pass through fire partitions, and in the case of a vertical duct serving several floors such fire dampers should be installed at each opening in the main vertical duct and including points at which branch ducts are attached to the vertical duct.

An important additional safeguard is a manually operated fan shut-off installed at a location which will be readily accessible under fire conditions. Air conditioning equipment is frequently installed on the roof of a building or in a basement. In case of fire it may be difficult to get to a basement to shut the system off and it should not be necessary to have to go to the roof.

Record of Public Service Cited In Herter Campaign

Christian A. Herter

Congressman Christian A. Herter today pointed to his record of service to the people of the tenth congressional district and to his voting record on Capitol Hill as he submitted to the voters of his district his candidacy for reelection to another term.

His supporters, in urging his reelection on the basis of the record he has made, cite not only the high standard of representation he has given as congressman but also his career of public service that started as a member of the State Department back in 1916.

Democratic, Republican and independent newspapers alike have commended Congressman Herter for the progressive and forthright stands he has taken on the important measures which have been voted upon by Congress in the past four years.

For the service and convenience of his constituents Herter has maintained a permanent Boston office in addition to his regular Washington office, and he also has held periodic "constituent clinics" in various parts of his congressional district, to which the people of his district were able to take any matters on which they felt their congressman could be of assistance.

"For the past four years I have represented you in the Congress of the United States," Herter said in his message to the voters of his district. "During that time I have constantly tried to serve all of you alike to the very best of my ability. I sincerely believe I have made a record which justifies you in retaining me in office for another term."

"My legislative record appears to have met with your approval. On the matter of service to you, I have not only maintained a permanent Boston office for your convenience but have tried to help you with your problems by coming at regular intervals into your section of the district so that we could personally discuss them face to face. I shall continue that service while I am your congressman," Herter declared.

A group of veterans this week visited Congressman Herter's office to express their thanks for his efforts on behalf of them and other ex-servicemen, and from Corporal Ernest Fox of Roxbury, Congressman Herter received a letter which read:

"As a veteran of foreign service, may I extend my sincere thanks to you not only for what you have done for me but for other veterans as well. I feel that you have displayed a thorough understanding of the problems facing the serviceman on his return to civilian life and that you have been quick to extend to him a helping hand whenever the opportunity presented itself. I know that many other veterans will agree with me when I say that you have proved yourself a real friend of the veteran."

Numerous political and civic leaders throughout the 10th congressional district this week paid warm tribute to the caliber of service performed by Congressman Herter during the past four years and urged his reelection on the strength of the record he has made.

Congressman Herter began his public career as a member of the State Department after he was rejected for army duty because of physical disability in World War I. He was secretary of a special diplomatic commission which drew up a prisoner-of-war agreement with Germany in 1918, and in 1919 was secretary of the American Peace Commission. He was then 24. Herter was executive secretary of the European Relief Council in 1920 and from 1921 to 1924 was personal secretary to the Secretary of Commerce.

Atomic Bomb Places World in Shadow of Death

Scientists, veterans, clergymen and educators are among the many groups supporting the Massachusetts Committee for World Federation Leading citizens who intend to vote "YES" on the last question on the ballot in most communities in Massachusetts, on November 5th include: Dr. Elliott C. Cutler, Professor of Surgery at Harvard, and a former Brigadier General, Bishop Lewis O. Hartman, President of the Methodist Church, resident in the Boston area, W. Appleton Lawrence, Bishop of Western Massachusetts, Lewis Perry, Principal Emeritus, The Phillips Exeter Academy, Joshua Loth Liebman, Rabbi, Temple Israel and Joseph Salerno, President, Massachusetts State CIO.

Dr. Cutler says: "The atomic bomb and biological warfare place the world literally in the valley of the shadow of death. They make modern warfare so destructive that the outbreak of another major war must be prevented. We can now make a bomb, the destructive powers of which are the equal of one million ten-ton blockbusters, a power so terrific that the human mind cannot grasp it. Atomic 'secrets' cannot be kept for more than a few years by any nation, nor can there be an adequate military defense against a surprise attack of paralyzing the country and peoples attacked."

Bishop Hartman states: "There can be no absolute guarantee that peace can be maintained as long as any nation has the sovereign right to decide its own international disputes and questions of war and peace for itself. No nation-state can today hope to be strong enough, sovereign enough, to protect its citizens from war. Twice in one generation the United States has been forced to enter a war which the people wished to avoid. Peace is not merely the absence of war but the presence of justice, of law, of order—in short, of government."

In the statement of Dr. Perry is this paragraph: "The United Nations as now constituted is a league of sovereign states. As such, it is not a limited world government, and therefore cannot by effective world law prevent armed conflict between nations and establish justice and security. Nevertheless, it is the greatest step yet taken by mankind toward world peace. Since the Charter provides for amendments, every effort should be made to strengthen the United Nations and transform it into a world government."

Rabbi Liebman prefaces his intention to vote "YES" on November 5th by saying: "The objectives of World Government I know, cannot be reached overnight. But a start must be made. It should be made now. It must be directed to the removal of the haunting fear and suspicion with which atomic weapons afflict mankind. We in the United States have the opportunity and duty to take the lead in proposing such constructive measures, as are necessary, to insure the people of the world PEACE with justice and LIBERTY under law. Each of us must lend our personal influence to this great cause."

Joseph Salerno backs the Massachusetts Committee for World Federation by saying: "Massachusetts voters on November 5th will be given an opportunity to vote on the only method advanced by educators, statesmen, scientists, and private citizens for the effective prevention of war, namely, to strengthen the United Nations Charter by amendments and make it into a Limited World Government able to prevent war. Massachusetts thus will be the first State to put itself on record as favoring that immediate steps be taken to strengthen the United Nations Charter. I urge others to vote 'YES' on this referendum in the interest of lasting world peace."

Emerson P.T.A. Starts Second Season

The Parent-Teachers Association of Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls opened its second season Monday evening after a business meeting which featured plans for a gala Halloween for the youngsters of Upper Falls—Principal Joseph H. Randall introduced Norman Payne and Miss Katherine T. Murphy in an engaging presentation of audio and video education.

Mr. Payne effectively demonstrated with the aid of sound movies, how much more interesting teachers can make learning when children are given the opportunity to follow by sight and sound, the processes of our great industries from raw material to finished product. He showed us how history too can be made to come alive by electrically transcribed dramatizations of some events which might seem dull when read from the text book.

Miss Murphy demonstrated how a sense of the greatness and unity of our country can be brought to our children by the use of film strips showing our fishing villages, deserts, mountains and industrial centers all connected by streamlined transportation which makes it possible for East to know West and North to be neighbors with the South. The evening ended with a social period during which delicious

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Chretien are newcomers to Auburndale having recently purchased the residence at 435 Wolcott St. formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Yankin.

Dr. Chretien was born in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and received his elementary education in the Medford schools where he was active in athletics. His premedical training was acquired at the University of New Hampshire, following which he attended Tufts College Medical School receiving his degree, Doctor of Medicine (cum laude) in March of 1943. He completed a rotating internship at the Newton Hospital and from then until he entered active duty with the Naval Service in April 1944 he served as an assistant resident at the Newton Hospital.

Dr. Chretien's duties with the U. S. Navy took him into both the European and Pacific theatres of operation. In the European-African theatre Dr. Chretien was medical officer of a task group which escorted transatlantic convoys. In February 1945, he was assigned as medical officer of the U.S.S. Benner, a destroyer attached to a fast carrier task force of the third and Fifth Fleets operating off the coast of Japan.

This duty took him to the Marshall Islands, Mariana's and Philippines. He returned to the United States in March of 1946 and served the remainder of his time on active duty at the Naval Receiving Station in Boston.

Since his release to inactive duty Dr. Chretien has served as a resident in obstetrics and pediatrics at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital until October 1st, when his appointment terminated. He plans to enter private practice in the near future.

Dr. and Mrs. Chretien (the former June S. Wentworth of Somerville) were married Sept. 5, 1942, and have one 22 months old daughter Mary Louise.

Potato Bugs and DDT

You can credit DDT to potato bugs. First invented by a Swiss chemist in 1874, DDT laid on the shelf for more than half a century. Maybe people were frightened by its chemical name—dichloro-diphenyltrichloroethane. Then in 1939 the old discovery was revived to fight potato bugs with great success, in Switzerland.

from becoming involved with the law, it is equally true that in a substantial percentage of cases the parents are basically to blame for their children getting into trouble. Parents are primarily responsible for the upbringing of their children. Some parents, it seems, do not understand that the responsibility is theirs. Other realizing it, are prone to leave the guidance of their children entirely in the hands of the church, the school and others. These agencies can do no more than supplement home guidance. They cannot supplant it.

Thoreau tells of "Tom Hyde, the tinker, standing on the galloos." He was asked for a final statement and his reply was: "Tell the tailors to remember to make a knot in their thread before they take the first stitch."

It would save a world of crime and heart aches in this world if fathers and mothers would teach each child, early in life, to tie a knot in honesty, in thrift, in decency of thought and in other fundamental virtues. They would thereby enable youth to go on with the important task of tailoring their lives so that no part would remain weak at the seams.

Sincerely yours,
George E. Thompson,
District Attorney, Middlesex County.

AROUND TOWN...

Driving along Centre street Sunday at 3:45 a.m., through the season's heaviest fog, the thought that 24,000 persons have been killed in accidents so far, this year, caused the speedometer needle to drop back in the vicinity of the five mile per hour mark. A slight rain Monday night, however, dispelled the stuff and visibility has been just about excellent for night driving all week. A majority of the city's businessmen are wondering where the elusive customer is hiding. Two additional telephones are being installed up at Newton's police bureau. According to Sergeant Bill Dowling there has been a one hundred per cent increase in business having to do with traffic and accidents since the first of the year. A recent accident on Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, at 1:30 a.m., when a skidding car was demolished after striking a tree, resulted in the hospitalization of the occupants after they'd been extricated from the car by firemen. Dowling and Traffic Inspectors Chadwick and McEnaney were called to the scene.

ODDITIES...

There's a character around town who wears a black band on his coat sleeve because his gal liked another male just a little bit better and walked out on him. He's mourning her dead love one presumes. This morning, in Newton Centre Square, at 4:35 a.m., a resident of that village tossed pieces of cake in the air with one hand for his dog to catch, while with a handkerchief in the other, he attempted to take a piece of dust from his eye—swearing fluently as he busily kept both hands working. 3:40 a.m. in Newton Corner, Wednesday, a trailer truck drove head-on against the cement post guarding the trolley loading platform. The "guard post" hurtled half the length of the platform end over end. Luckily no truck ever struck that "guard post" during the rush hour.

UNCLE WILLIE...

The family's not enjoying these Uncle Willie stories even a little bit, but be that as it may, he is, and never has been, much of a bargain. Take the last time he visited New York, for instance. He climbed aboard a Riverside Drive bus, one afternoon, trailing his heavy suitcase behind him. Handing the conductor a nickel, he became very indignant when the conductor told him the fare on the Riverside Drive line was a dime. As a matter of fact, he became so unreasonable about paying the additional nickel that the conductor completely lost his temper. First he threw Uncle Willie off the bus and then picking up Uncle Willie's suitcase, he threw it over the parapet into the Hudson River. Uncle Willie shrieked with rage, as shaking his fist after the disappearing bus, he bellowed: "It's not enough that you tried to murder me in cold blood, you dirty dog, but now you've drowned me son Jack!"

Women Urged To Redouble Efforts In Salvaging Fats

Due to the acute shortage of meat women have been unable to save and turn in fats to the extent they had during previous months, but with the lifting of price ceilings fat salvage collections should surpass those of recent months. According to the American Fat Salvage Committee housewives, since the start of the program four years ago, have been responsible for the recovery of more than five hundred million pounds of fat. This means that even when meat was in such short supply women continued to be conscientious in saving waste fats.

The committee also pointed out that due to the worldwide shortage of fats and with no prospects for early improvement in the situation, the need for fat salvaging is greater than it has been at any time during the war years.

Production of many greatly needed consumer items are dependent on fats. These include soap, pharmaceuticals, automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, floor coverings and textiles. Every pound of fat turned back to the butcher will hasten the return of these and many other products.

For these reasons American women are urged not only to continue their efforts in salvaging and turning in used fats, but to redouble them.

Ford Machinery For Cleaning Cylinder Blocks

Ford Motor Company engineers have installed new and specially designed machinery for cleaning newly cast Ford and Mercury cylinder blocks.

The machines, shot blast and centrifugal wheel shot-blast cleaners built to Ford specifications, now are operating in the Rouge Foundry at Dearborn. The enormous cabinets are 65 feet high and have a capacity of 240 cylinder blocks each air hour.

In addition to a better and faster cleaning operation, the dust-free machines provide improved working conditions and a considerable saving in reclamation of the shot cleaning material.

The Quartermaster Corps asked approximately 10,000 combat soldiers of World War II which items they would prefer to carry with them in an emergency ration. First choice went to coffee, second to cigarettes. Canned meat items were high in the list with strong support for candies and chewing gum.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Jane: Oh Bill, did you remember to bring home the Graphic with you tonight?

Bill: Sure did. It's right here on the table under your nose. But before you bury yourself in it, how about bridge with Jim and Peg next Monday night? Jim wants me to let him know tonight.

Jane: Well, if what I'm looking for in this paper is here, I think we'll have to make it some other night.

Bill: What's going on now, another club meeting?

Jane: No indeed, it's something special that Junior told me was announced in school—a series of talks called "We-the-Parents'."

Bill: Sounds good and it certainly applies to us. What are the talks about?

Jane: Wait just a minute and I'll tell you. Here, I've found the article. The talks are going to be given every Monday evening in October and are entitled "Spotlight on the Family," "Physical Health and Fitness," "Mental Hygiene" and "The Teen-Age Community." I think it sounds like a good series, don't you?

Bill: I certainly do. In fact why not ask Jim and Peg to go with us. That daughter of theirs is quite an eating problem, so perhaps that second talk on "Physical Health" might help them. I'll phone Jim right now and ask him.

Tall, Giant Tulips Stage The Spring Bulb Finale

When Darwin Tulips Bloom, the Full Glory of Summer is Reached.

The climax of the hardy bulb display in spring gardens comes when the tulips bloom, and is provided by the tall, large flowering varieties.

While all these tall, late varieties are commonly known as Darwin tulips in catalogues they are usually divided into several classes, including the true Darwins, Cottage and Breeder clans. This division is based upon ancestry, and has little significance for the gardener, who may choose the varieties which suit his purpose without regard to ancestry. All blossom together, and harmonize beautifully, when planted together. Moreover, they are constantly being hybridized in the attempt to breed improved varieties, so that their family characteristics are gradually becoming less distinct.

Breeder tulips are the oldest, tallest, and average largest; and from them the other types are believed to have been derived, by hybridizing or selection. They have rich, dark colors, which are at their best in contrast with the lighter, brighter Darwin and Cottage varieties.

Cottage tulips have clear, bright colors, and the older varieties usually have pointed petals, with the tips turned back, or "reflexed." But many new varieties, produced by crossing with other types, have rounded petals, and are "cup-shaped" like the Darwins. Darwin tulips are characterized by an "overbloom" of white which softens their colors.

These family differences make it all the more desirable that varieties of all classes shall be included in the garden, planted side by side where the beauty of one will enhance that of its companions. Tulips more than any other flower family will provide all the colors of the rainbow for the spring garden display.

Early tulips blossom two to four weeks earlier than the tall, late types; they have shorter stems and smaller flowers; but they bring to the garden colors lacking before they come, and prolong the tulip season. Groups planted in the border foreground

Do You Know Massachusetts?

DO YOU KNOW THAT... Marriages in Massachusetts will make an all-time record in 1946, a total estimated at more than 57,000, which is 70 per cent more than the prewar average in 1935-9 and 8 per cent more than the previous record peak in 1941. The number of new dwelling units of all kinds expected to be completed in the Commonwealth in 1946 is not over 17,000. Only 11 per cent of the factory wage earners in Worcester are earning less than $35 a week; 53 per cent earn more than $50 and 33 per cent are earning between $55 and $80 per week, as shown by reports from 135 establishments compiled by the Division of Statistics, Dept. of Labor and Industries. Massachusetts residents in 1945 were carrying $4,023,000,000 of "ordinary" life insurance, an increase of 35 per cent over that of ten years before. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture estimates that 3,317,000 bushels of potatoes this year, which is 19 per cent more than a year ago and 31 per cent more than the ten-year average, 1935-1944. In the five years, 1941-1945, the number of divorces in Massachusetts averaged 13.5 per cent of new marriages recorded. The town of Boxford at a special town meeting adopted a comprehensive zoning by-law which has been approved by the Attorney General and is now in effect.

Newton Chapter, Order of Demolay

A regular meeting of Newton DeMolay was held at the Masonic Temple, Newtonville on Saturday evening, October 26th. The DeMolay degree was exemplified for John C. Kennedy and Richard M. Woods after the business meeting presided over by Cushman S. Gray of Waltham, Acting Master Councilor. Following the meeting the seventy-five members, and twenty guests present were entertained by Wray P. White of Natick. Mr. White, who is a miniature railroad enthusiast, presented moving pictures of the electric rail road which he has erected at his home. After the picture he demonstrated his method of carving small automobiles and trucks modeled after vehicles commonly on the roads near his home. He also displayed a number of these ingenious models including fire trucks with moveable ladders, derricks, cranes and mechanical shovels all carved by hand from a single block of wood.

On Saturday evening, November 2nd and the 35th Regular Meeting of Newton Chapter will be held at the Masonic Temple. This will be a Tri-Chapter meeting in which the complete officers' lines of Newton Chapter, Medford Chapter and Dorchester Chapter of Dorchester will participate. A Tribute to Mrs. S. H. Mitchell

In the passing of Mrs. Charline McRae Mitchell, Newton has lost one of her choicest spirits. In her church a faithful member and inspiring leader; no task too great for her to accomplish. In Red Cross work, in the Woman's Club philanthropies, in Community projects her unusual mind, ability and gracious dignity will be sorely missed. She gave herself so wholeheartedly to these works, she will long stand in the hearts of many as an ideal to be attained.

She spread the cheer of her personality and her thoughtfulness of others wherever she went. Her young friends and neighbors as well as her intimates felt the warmth of her spirit and were uplifted by it. Endowed with courage, ability and steadfastness, her influence will remain among us.

Such a life cannot be lost to the universe. It is needed. Its spirit is power.

We feel sure this is not the end but the beginning of a larger and increasing service. We say to her, Goodbye, till morning comes again.

Prominent Newton Woman Dies

Mrs. Charline McRae Mitchell of 21 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, wife of Mr. S. Hardy Mitchell, died October 30 at her home.

A resident of Newton Centre for over forty years, Mrs. Mitchell was a woman of unusual ability, an able leader in civic affairs, and a faithful and devoted member of Trinity Episcopal Church.

A native of Indiana where her father was once Commissioner of Education; a graduate of Purdue University where her mother was a Dean of Women, Mrs. Mitchell was exceptionally well qualified for the numerous positions she held in Newton.

In World War I she was the only woman member of the Newton Public Safety Committee. In World War II she was for five years Chairman of the Newton Centre Branch Sewing Unit of the Newton Red Cross which made thousands of garments for war stricken areas and was cited for her work.

She served as Chairman of the Church Service League of Trinity Church for three years and held innumerable other responsible positions in the Parish. She was chairman for all the social celebrations connected with the commemoration of Reverend Edward T. Sullivan's fifty years of ministry in this Parish.

She was President of the Newton Centre Woman's Club 1914-1917. Instigator of the idea of having a woman's clubhouse, she aided materially in raising the needed amount and was Chairman of the Building Committee. This Club and Clubhouse, outstanding in the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, serves Newton as a Community Clubhouse many times. She was elected a "Pioneer Woman" for her years of outstanding leadership and active service in her community by the Massachusetts State Federation when it celebrated its fiftieth anniversary at Swampscott.

She served as President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for three years, was a member of the Past Presidents Club of Massachusetts and of the Twelfth District Past Presidents Club.

While President of the Newton Centre Club she arranged under the auspices of the club for the pling of a memorial tablet on the grounds of the Smith Homestead on Centre St., Newton Centre to commemorate the birthplace of Samuel S. F. Smith, the author of the National Hymn, "America."

She was very active on the Village Committee which raised the funds and arranged for the building of the Newton Centre Branch of the Newton Library.

She was President for three years of The Mothers' Rest Association, one of the oldest and largest charities of Newton. She was actively interested in The Newton Hospital Benefit Shop, The All-Newton Music School, The Newton District Nursing Association and the Newton Centre School Association.

She was a member of the Executive Board of the Newton Centre Improvement Association.

She served as Chairman of the Woman's Courtesy Committee of the Newton Trust Company for three years.

She also served on the Republican Ward Committee for the village. She was a member of the Fortnightly Club.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Mitchell leaves her daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Bailey and two grandchildren, Catherine and Hamilton Bailey.

H. S. Seniors Air Problems Over Radio

Social activities planned to create friendlier and more sympathetic relationships and to do away with cliques, were advocated by teen-age students at the Newton High School forum Tuesday night, which was broadcast over station WHDH.

The student panel, which included Patricia Blake, Martha Palmer, Burton Woodward and Allen Brailey, Newton High School seniors, discussed many aspects of the teen-age community. Greatest source of annoyance to teen-agers, according to their representatives, comes from being treated like children by parents and adults. They petitioned for more faith and responsibility and less patronization.

One A. M. was agreed upon as a reasonable hour for most Saturday dates, and somewhat earlier on Fridays, with other evenings generally reserved for studying. Opinion on allowances varied, but $2 was set as a minimum, not including money for lunches, carfare or clothing. It was firmly stated that the actual amount should be worked out between parents and child, but that the recipient should be allowed to spend the money without interference and recriminations.

Principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Mark A. McCloskey, director of community education in the New York public schools, who pointed out the need for evoking the best in each child to develop initiative, spontaneity, solidarity and cooperation, for better community living as a niche in better world living.

The teen-age forum was the last in a series of four lectures, entitled "We—the Parents," sponsored by the Newton Council of Parent Teachers Associations and the Newton Community Council, with the cooperation of the Newton Health and School Departments.

Clarence R. Mease, executive director of the Newton Community Council, presided at last night's meeting, and Ray Kierman, news director at WHDH, was moderator.

Newton Lions Club

Members of the Newton Lions Club were treated to a very interesting talk by Mr. C. F. Van Thulleral, Director of the U. S. Weather Bureau, Boston, at their last meeting. The speaker was introduced by Dr. Charles Hall.

With the statement that there were more changes in weather in New England than any other place in the U. S., the speaker went on to trace the Weather Reporting organization since its infancy in 1870; later taken over by the Signal Corps of the U. S. Army, and finally organized in 1892. In 1927, weather reporting became a subject that could be taught, and is now being taught at many Universities. This service expanded quite rapidly in the 1930's, and we now have 325 Reporting Stations in this country which transmit six hourly reports daily. He stated that there are 60,000 miles of wire circuits and radio circuits over which weather is transmitted.

This weather service first started with flying kites attached to standard piano wire, with six kites on the same wire. The best we could do then was two miles high, and it took too long to get results. This was later followed by an instrument on an airplane, when we reached 17,500 feet, and results were reduced from 8 hours to 2 hours.

In the late 30's we used Radio, and secured reports from 50 to 60 thousand feet, and occasionally 120 to 125 thousand feet. He followed with a description of the different kinds of air, weight and pressure, and added that there were many kinds of reporting such as Hurricane, Cranberry bogs for flooding, Fruit, Frost, and the smudge pots, fire weather, forecasts for wind speed and wind directions. The Weather Bureau assists in control of fires, sending trucks with radio equipment, warnings to shippers of perishable produce, and general forecasting. Meteorology has made enormous strides.

The business meeting was conducted by Past President Edward Day in the absence of President Frank Dunleavy. A vote of thanks was given John W. House for his successful Lion's party at

Auburndale 'Sitters' Group Met Oct. 26

A group of Auburndale high school girls met on Saturday morning, Oct. 26, to discuss rates and rules for "sitting" with children. The following rates were agreed upon as being reasonable:

For simple child-minding, afternoon or evening—25 cents per hour.

For staying after midnight on agreement, 35 cents per hour.

For staying beyond hour agreed upon, 50 cents per hour.

For extra duties, to be arranged.

The Auburndale Woman's Club will have available for mothers of the community a list of girls, and boys if they wish to join the project, who agree to abide by the rules of the group. One restriction will be a limit of one visitor when on duty and then only with permission. Naps will be allowed in the late evening if mothers are willing. It is hoped that this service will clarify some of the irregularities which have existed in the past and be of service to both groups concerned.

Mrs. Harold Carnes is in charge of the group. Other girls who wish to be included should get in touch with her. A list will be posted in the near future in an accessible spot in the community.

Community Club Announces Lectures

The Ways and Means Committee of the Newton Community Club announces a series of five, monthly, Current Event Lectures by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor.

These will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church, Park and Vernon streets, Newton, at 10:15 A.M. The first lecture is scheduled for November 8, and succeeding dates are December 13, January 10, February 14 and March 14.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Ernest Marcoux, 34 Eldridge street, Newton.

his summer residence in Littleton. A new member, sponsored by Hazen Edgar was then added to the ranks: Dr. John Hanks, Ph.D., Bacteriologist, The Leonard Woods Memorial (American Leprosy Foundation), Lecturer in Bacteriology at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Hanks will speak this week on the subject of Leprosy.

Other members were proposed by Richard Fennelley and John W. House.

Kelley Waging Active Campaign For District Atty.

JOHN F. KELLEY

John F. Kelley, Attorney at Law, candidate for District Attorney of the Northern District (Middlesex County) is making an aggressive campaign. Kelley is a veteran of World War II with a record of twenty-nine months combat service in his forty-one months enlisted time.

John F. Kelley has been publicly endorsed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Middlesex County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and by local V. F. W. Posts in 49 cities and towns in Middlesex County. This is the first time in the history of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that a candidate has been publicly endorsed for public office.

Speaking before veteran organizations, candidate Kelley said: "We veterans have a high role of civic responsibility to assume in this world of confusion. We do not ask for all the political offices in sight, but out of 12 county nominations, 210,000 veterans ought to rate more than one. I am the only veteran of World War II who was nominated by either the Democrats or Republican Party for any Middlesex County office. With only this one office open to us, the main responsibility for winning the election becomes that of the 210,000 men who enlisted during the war. If we fail to win the only office open to us in the County, it might be interpreted that the people and the veterans of Middlesex do not wish to have veterans assume any more public duties."

"As veterans, most of us are thinking in a wider field than any party groove. There was no party in our war service. The fact that I am the Democratic nominee for District Attorney, is only incidental. That is why I am making a special appeal to veterans and their families to support my candidacy for District Attorney, regardless of any party label."

"As one of your comrades in war, I am still your comrade in the equally hard fight to make peace in the world a lasting and just condition among men and nations."

"My election as District Attorney of the Northern District (Middlesex County) should mean that the veterans of the State will be recognized hereafter as factors in the political life of Massachusetts. On that plea I invite your support and that of your families."

"I thank the veterans and the veteran organizations for their confidence and support and assure them and everyone who votes for me that I shall never violate their trust as a veteran and a citizen."

Rotary Club

Mr. J. C. Richdale, vice president of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company, who served as Liquid Fuel Administrator during the recent war and advisor to the six new England governors, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Speaking on "Sidelights on the Petroleum Industry" Mr. Richdale said, "We are living in a petroleum age in which gasoline is considered as one of the necessities of life," and pointed out that two-thirds of all the tonnage shipped by this government overseas during World War II consisted of petroleum.

The petroleum industry, he stated, has made a great contribution to the standards of living by the marketing of good products, low in price, with a payment of high wages to its employees. Speaking of the supply of crude oil in the United States, he was optimistic. In 1920 the experts predicted that there were only seven billion barrels in the United States. Since that time 23 billion barrels have been taken from oil wells, and there is a reserve of two billion still left. At present the United States has from 15 to 20 per cent of all the supply of crude oil in the world. He warned against individuals going into the oil game, because of the tremendous capital required to get oil and stated that it costs $250,000 to drill a single well. He was encouraging in his prediction that there is a sufficient supply of petroleum for the lifetime of this and many other generations to follow.

Miss Lee Doucette of Lasell Junior College delighted the Club with a group of three vocal solos with Lou Haffermehl as her accompanist.

Jacob Canter Gets Post in Nicaragua

Jacob Canter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Canter, of 50 Pembroke street, Newton, was recently appointed Cultural Attache to Managua, Nicaragua. Mr. Canter was a graduate of Harvard sum cum laude in 1936 and received his Ph.D. in 1940. In 1937, he was honored by a Sheldon Fellowship and sent to the University of Paris. During the war, he was an instructor at the U. S. Naval Academy and rose to the rank of Lieut. Commander. His work in his new assignment will bring better understanding of the United States in Latin America under the newly created office of Information and Cultural Affairs of the State Department.

Woman's Club Of Newton Highlands

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will hold their regular meeting in the Congregational Parish House, Nov. 5, at 2:00 p. m. Marie Lefebvre will speak on "Modern Fabrics For You and Your Home." Miss Lefebvre traveled throughout Europe, Africa and the Near East, during which time as Liaison Officer she assisted in establishing the League's various headquarters for the International League of Aviators in Paris.

There will be music under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Anderson, chairman of the music committee.

Dist. Atty. Thompson Has Strong Support

DIST. ATTY. GEORGE E. THOMPSON, candidate for reelection whose letter on juvenile delinquency appears in Paul Considine's column, "Our Town after Midnight."

The final week of the campaign that will be brought to a close next Tuesday, November 5, shows, as a result of an impartial survey made by this news service, that the present district attorney of Middlesex County, George E. Thompson, is not only receiving the unanimous support of the Republicans but is being endorsed by independent Democratic men and women's groups of the county.

An analysis of the reports from the 54 cities and towns of the county show that the present incumbent of the office is receiving strong support from veteran groups who, in offering their support to District Attorney Thompson, recognize the humane interest he has shown in the disposition of those unfortunate veterans of world war two, that have had the misfortune of having had to appear in the Middlesex Superior Court.

Having served as district attorney since his appointment by former Governor Saltonstall, when the then District Attorney Lieutenant Governor, District Robert F. Bradford was elected Attorney Thompson was overwhelmingly nominated at the recent June primaries. As the present district attorney states, "The office of the chief law enforcement officer of Middlesex County should not be a political job, the incumbent of this office is the representative of all the citizens of the county regardless of party to see that crime shall not prevail."

Amesbury Post VFW Plans to Hold Thanksgiving Dance

At a meeting of Lt. Stanton M. Amesbury Post, V. F. W., held at the Riverside Recreation Grounds under the direction of Comm. Arthur C. Hill, plans were made for the Thanksgiving dance and raffle to be held Friday evening, Nov. 22. Herbert E. Farrier is chairman, assisted by William J. Sifford, Richard F. Cleveland, Robert E. LeVert, Finlay J. Tracy, and Leonard A. Wilson. Two baskets with turkey in each, and all the fixin's, will be raffled off during the dance. Sifford announced that a bowling league has been organized to meet each Thursday evening at 8 p. m. at the Auburndale Community Clubhouse. Plans are underway for matches with neighboring bowling leagues, he stated. The post has accepted an invitation to assist with the Halloween party of the Burr School for grammar school students. A membership drive was instituted and will last until December 31. The members sponsoring the largest number of accepted candidates for the post will be awarded first prize of $25. The prize was donated by one of the new members, George S. Kimball of Waban.

Announcement was made of the course starting at Newton High School entitled "Starting and Operating a Small Business" to be conducted by the city of Newton. The next meeting of the post will be on Monday, November 4.

'Cooking with Nutrition' Classes Begin Nov. 4

The lessons will be given from 7 to 9 at the Red Cross Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville. Miss Eleanor Mohan will be the instructor.

My Customers are Angels...
They've been most patient about waiting for the tire that
OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES
The better the tire, the faster it sells... and we've never seen a tire sell as fast as the new postwar B. F. Goodrich Silvertown that outwears and outlasts tires of prewar construction. That's why, in the face of outstanding production, we've had to ask so many of our customers to wait just a little longer for the tire that's well worth waiting for.
It's Extra Safety that caused the Extra Demand for B. F. GOODRICH SILVERTOWNS
Extra safety is an engineered factor in the new B. F. Goodrich tires... extra safety and greater resistance to "road shock" from the 35% stronger body with more cords and an entirely new and stronger cord... extra safety and greater protection against skidding from the wider, flatter surface that spreads the wear more evenly, gives you many more miles of service than prewar passenger car tires. If you want the tire that outwears prewar tires, order immediately for earliest delivery.
EXTRA MILEAGE TIRE RECAPPING
